Washington, July 23.—(P)—The Kellogg-Briand treaty renouncing war will become binding upon 46 nations tomorrow when the instrument of ratification of Japan is deposited at the state department and President Hoover formally proclaims the treaty at a solemn White House ceremony.

Former President Coolidge, former Secretary Kellogg and a distinguished gathering of diplomats representing the adhering nations, will witness the ceremony. Japan is the last of the original signatory powers to deposit its ratification in Washington and upon this deposit, by its own terms, the treaty will go into force. Ratifications have been deposited by 41 other nations which were invited to adhere to the pact. Three ratifications for formal deposit at the state department were tonight en route to Washington, those of Greece, Honduras and Persia. Action on the treaty, either legislation or by an indication of intention to adhere, has been taken by 16 other nations. Only two countries, Argentina and Brazil, have so far refused to associate themselves with the treaty by not signifying their intention to adhere.

The treaty, under which the nations renounce war as an instrument of national policy, has already played a large part in world affairs. The United States has adopted it as the cornerstone for future naval reduction discussions. The pact has played a large part in preserving peace in the troubles between China and the United States over the Chinese Eastern railway. It was through the steps which Secretary Stimson took to call to the attention of China and Russia their adherence to the treaty that officials in Washington believe open hostilities in Manchuria have been averted.

This movement toward world peace becomes an actuality in a little more than two years after the first suggestion for renunciation of war was made by Foreign Minister Briand of France in a message to the American people through the Associated Press, April 6, 1927. This was the occasion of the fourth anniversary of the entrance of the United States into the World War.

Mr. Kellogg, secretary of state at the time, foresaw in the suggestion a hope for the advancement of world peace. Negotiations, which eventually embraced 15 of the principal powers, were successfully concluded and representatives of the nations gathered in Paris, August 27, 1928, and signed the treaty on behalf of their nations.

Former President Coolidge is to arrive early tomorrow morning from his flight to Paris.

Elections Committee To Meet This Morning; Immediate Action on Ap- pointments Scheduled.

Rejection of the nomination of Thomas Wisdom for the position of state auditor by the senate committee on elections was regarded as certain Tuesday, while it was also currently reported around the senate that Judge Harry D. Reed, conceding rejection, had insisted on withdrawal of his name to succeed Stanley Bennett on the state highway board. The elections committee is to meet this morning prior to the assembling of the senate, and reports have been ordered as soon as action is taken.

It is said that the committee will vote 11 to 4 in opposition to any nomination that would deprive the state of the services of the present state auditor, Sam J. Slate.

Another appointment to be considered will be that of John G. Harrison, of Mercer university, as a member of the state board of education. Mr. Harrison's name was substituted for that of Willis A. Sutton, of Atlanta.

A check of the senate indicates that the action of the committee in rejecting Mr. Wisdom's nomination will be sustained by an overwhelming majority, sufficiently large to indicate that the nomination of any person to succeed Mr. Slate will be rejected.

The Columbus Ledger in discussing the failure of the governor to reappoint State Auditor Sam J. Slate, says editorially:

"The refusal of Governor Hardman to send the name of Sam J. Slate to the senate for confirmation as state auditor is a distinct disappointment to friends of the governor and of Mr. Slate."

"It is generally believed that the governor's action was prompted by the fact that Mr. Slate may not have given him the support in his first campaign that the governor expected. If that be true, it seems to this newspaper that Governor Hardman has harbored a grudge longer than should be expected of men in his high position."

Two years ago he showed his feelings toward the state auditor by refusing to send his name to the senate. That body refused to confirm the nomination of Mr. Wisdom, whose appointment has again been made by the governor. The action of the senate two years ago showed the high opinion its members entertained

MAN IS BELIEVED DYING AS RESULT OF PISTOL WOUND

Howard Thrasher, 38, of 1019 Tilden avenue, N. W., is in a local hospital in what is said to be a dying condition as a result of a bullet wound near his heart, which, according to police reports, was self-inflicted with suicidal intent, shortly after 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

When Thrasher came home at 5 o'clock he asked his mother, Mrs. Lula F. Thrasher, for "the gun Charlie (his brother) gave us." As her son appeared to be in the best of spirits, Mrs. Thrasher, suspecting nothing, gave him the pistol and he went into his room. A few minutes later he was found on the floor with a bullet in his left chest and powder burns around the hole made by the bullet. Mrs. Thrasher said she could describe no reason for what apparently was his act.

Thrasher is an employee of the Southern railway and is unmarried, living with his mother.

ST. LOUIS FLIERS NEAR 300 HOURS

St. Louis, July 24 (Wednesday).—Spurred for every hour by an offer of $100 per hour for every hour they remain aloft beyond the record of California plane Angelino, Dale Jackson and Forrest O'Brien drove their St. Louis Robin into hitherto unexplored record territory early this morning. Shortly after 1 o'clock they had been in the air 257 hours, 11 more than the old record, and appeared headed for the 300-hour mark that all the fliers have set but have never attained.

As the trim craft, fitted with all the luxuries and comforts of home, leisurely soared above Lambert-St. Louis field, 25,000 well-wishers, grateful of the hour, kept up a rousing celebration that had begun shortly after 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when the old record was surpassed.

It was such a celebration as St. Louis has not seen since Colonel Lindbergh returned to his home city after his flight to Paris.

During the day there had been indication that the flight was nearing an end when the pilots sent down an order for waste to wipe escaping oil from the windshield. But this trouble had apparently been corrected early

Washington, July 23.—(P)—With American expenditures for purely military purposes exceeding those of any nation in the world, President Hoover today announced a general program for curtailing these outlays to the lowest point that will produce an adequate national defense.

As an important result, the chief executive hopes a reduction in taxes can be effected. The estimated military disbursements of the next four years he regards as the greatest obsta-

INCOME TAX BILL GIVEN APPROVAL

After a long debate that lasted more than four hours the house ways and means committee Tuesday afternoon by a vote of 13 to 3 agreed to return the committee's income tax bill to the house Wednesday morning with a favorable report. This action came after the committee had voted overwhelmingly in favor of adoption of the committee's substitute for the Boykin income tax bill. The Boykin measure fixed the rate of taxation at 10 per cent on income over $10,000, while the committee substitute fixed the rate at one-third of the federal tax.

Among those who discussed the measure before the committee were Dr. Sam W. Small, of The Constitution editorial staff, and R. C. Norman, state tax commissioner. They discussed largely the constitutionality of the proposed law. One amendment was adopted which provides that if one section of the bill is held by courts as unconstitutional the other parts shall remain in effect.

It is estimated that the proposed income tax, which is a statutory and not a constitutional measure, would bring one-third of $14,000,000, the ap-

Prominent Speakers Tell of Improvements Plan- ned for Atlanta Prop- erty Leased by N. C. & St. L.

Following an open hearing of railroad and cold storage company representatives, the senate and house committees for the Western & Atlantic railway Tuesday night deferred action on bills creating a special commission to manage contracts for improvements in the state-owned railroad. The particular improvement discussed by the committee was the erection of a $2,500,000 cold storage plant on the Atlanta property of the road.

A joint session of the committees of both houses heard proponents of the commission bill argue in its favor, then discussed each branch independently. The upper house body under Senator W. H. Platt will meet at 9:45 o'clock this morning in the senate chamber to take up the bill. In a lengthy session held immediately after the joint meeting, the

New Orleans, La., July 23.—(P)—Organized labor tonight voted against calling a general strike in New Orleans in sympathy with the striking street carmen, but agreed to donate 5 per cent of their earnings to the idle union conductors and motormen for the duration of the strike. Each branch must consider the measure independently. The upper house body under Senator W. H. Platt will meet at 9:45 o'clock this morning in the senate chamber to take up the bill. Albany, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) Five cities today were hosts to the first "All-Georgia Air Tour" which tonight is at its first night control, Albany. Welcomed on every hand by large and enthusiastic crowds, the tour planes, under Major Luke Christopher's guidance, arrived at every air port and took off again on scheduled time to the minute.

Miss Georgia, advance plane of the squadron, carrying Henderson Hallman, governor for Georgia, of the National Aeronautic Association; Lieutenant Colonel Harris E. Willingham, referee, and Cyril F. Dieter, tour business manager, led the flight from the Candler field take-off at 6:30 o'clock this morning until this city was reached at 4:26 o'clock this afternoon, with the other planes in two flights following on their pre-arranged schedule.

Spent Night In Brunswick. The route for tomorrow will be from Albany to Pelham, then to Thomasville, on to Valdosta for luncheon, then to Douglas and Waycross and to Brunswick for the night. Rain overtook the tour squadron between Columbus and Americus. Every ship kept on a compass course for Southern field and all landed on scheduled time. While a hard rain fell, Miss Georgia took off and the army plane soon followed. Then in order the rest of the squadron rose through the rain and lugging close to the ground set out for Albany.

Rain will not stop this tour, Major Christopher said. Should bad flying weather overtake the tour, every safety precaution will be taken, but if good pilots can get through, the rigid adherence to schedule maintained the first day will be continued, he told pilots.

Greeted by Thousands. Crowds, numbering thousands, were at the LaGrange and Americus airports to greet the squadron as it sailed skies to landings on excellent fields. Macon, after the tourists had circled Griffin, Barnesville and Forsyth, was the first point to receive the tour and from that airport to this pretty little city the flight has been such a tremendous success in every particular that members of the tour party have been too amazed to express their real feelings.

The American air tour committee had the American Legion "million dol-

Georgia Tobacco Markets Are Open at 22 Points; Higher Prices Prevailing

Average Return of 25 to 50 Per Cent More Than Last Year Indicated in First Day Reports.

Waycross, Ga., July 23.—(AP)—Georgia's crop of bright leaf tobacco went on the market in 22 towns and cities in the southern part of the state today, and early reports from the markets indicated that prices were substantially higher than last year, strengthening predictions that the total money received this season would establish a new record.

Scattered reports from throughout the belt gave sales prices of from $12 to $50 per hundred pounds, with the average from 25 to 50 per cent higher than the opening day of last year.

While for the most part the floors of the warehouses were crowded, reports from Douglas said growers were not rushing pell-mell to the warehouses there this season as last, and opening day sales were light, but prices were good. Sales ranged from $12 to $30 per hundred pounds at Douglas, with warehousemen estimating the average at $18, which they considered a good price for the quality of weed offered, mostly sand lugs.

Douglas sales were estimated at approximately 500,000 pounds for the day against first-day sales of nearly 1,000,000 pounds last year. Many of the growers in that section have already disposed of their crops at figures around $20 per thousand.

Blackshear Prices. At Blackshear prices averaged in the neighborhood of $20 per hundred against $11 last season, with approximately 750,000 pounds on the floors there. This little town last year led the state in total pounds sold with more than 8,000,000 pounds of the weed changing hands.

Sales at Vidalia brought about the same as those at Blackshear. Early estimates placed the average price in the neighborhood of $20 per hundred. Averages at Valdosta were estimated at $17 per hundred with more than 900,000 pounds estimated on the floors, establishing a record for the market there. Sales were conducted with two sets of buyers working to expedite the transactions.

Opening prices were estimated to average $20 per hundred, nearly twice the opening day bidding of a year ago, and the quality of weed was said to be low, growers holding their better grades in the market until later in the season. Stocks on the two floors here were estimated at 150,000 pounds.

$16.20 at Tifton. The first forty sales at Tifton brought an average of $16.20 per hundred against $12.93 in 1927, and at Moultrie good prices prevailed, although the poorer grades of leaf and sand lugs constituted the majority of the offerings. Moultrie's first sale brought $30 per hundred.

Claxton, with an estimated average of $23, had the highest reported price, with 20,000 pounds sold at noon.

First day sales generally were reported slow as hundreds of spectators thronged the floors to witness the opening and slowing down the procedure until sales on some floors continued until nightfall, slowing down the check and announcement of official figures.

Through the 60 counties in which Georgia's second money crop is grown business sprang forward and everyone appeared happy and prosperous.

SALES AT MOULTRIE BRING GOOD PRICE.

Tifton, Ga., July 23.—(AP)—The first 40 sales of the 1929 bright leaf tobacco crop on the local market today brought an average of $16.20 per hundred pounds, compared with the opening average of $12.93 per hundred a year ago.

Approximately 350,000 pounds were on the local floors for offering today, as the markets opened briskly. Prospects were good for continued higher prices than paid last year.

MOULTRIE GROWERS PLEASANT AT PRICES.

Moultrie, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) Growers selling tobacco on the Moultrie market today were pleased by the prices paid. Although sand lugs constituted the bulk of the offerings, much of the tobacco sold this morning for well above 30 cents a pound and indications were that the day's average price would be around 23 cents a pound.

The initial auction of the season found the two warehouses here filled to capacity.

$23 PER HUNDRED AVERAGE AT CLAXTON.

Claxton, Ga., July 23.—(AP)—Tobacco sales on the local market were estimated at $200,000 pounds at noon today, with the prices approximating an average of $23 per hundred pounds. The lowest price of the morning was $17.50 per hundred and a top of $30 was registered on the first sale.

230,000 POUNDS SOLD AT HAZLEHURST.

Hazlehurst, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Around 300,000 pounds of tobacco were sold on the Hazlehurst market today at an average price of about 23 cents per pound. Actual figures will not be available until late tonight. The highest price paid for any one lot was 50 cents per pound.

Tobacco growers in Jeff Davis county are well pleased with the price. Only one or two growers refused to sell at the price offered. Quite a large quantity of tobacco from adjoining counties was sold on the Hazlehurst market. Jeff Davis county has the best tobacco crop it has ever grown and all other crops are almost equally as good.

18 CENTS IS AVERAGE PRICE AT FITZGERALD.

Fitzgerald, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Total sales of tobacco on local markets today were 125,000 pounds at an average price of 18 cents per pound. Prices satisfactory to growers. Dickey warehouse sold at average of 25.6 per 100 pounds, actual report.

20 CENTS IS AVERAGE PRICE IN METTER.

Metter, Ga., July 23.—(AP)—More than 205,000 pounds of tobacco on the Metter market brought an average price of 20 cents per pound in today's sale. Most of the leaf was sand lugs. Prices were satisfactory.

RAD ROADS HAMPER THOMASVILLE SALES.

Thomasville, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—A drizzling rain that made skating rinks of Georgia's well-known red clay roads today hindered bringing of tobacco to market. The Thomasville warehouse reports 110,240 pounds sold here, at an average price of $20.10 per hundred pounds. Absence of the large quantities of low-grade leaf selling from six or seven cents per pound downward, was an outstanding feature of today's opening. There was but little of this inferior grade on the floor, which is in great contrast to sales all through the season last year, when these exceptionally low grades made up a large percentage of almost every day's sales.

$1,000,000 SALES REPORTED TO MACON.

Macon, Ga., July 23.—(AP)—Bright leaf tobacco growers in 22 south Georgia markets received more than $1,000,000 for today's opening day's offerings, sales of which exceeded 5,000,000 pounds, according to reports to the Macon Telegraph.

Conditions were so congested around some of the markets that much tobacco already on the floors had to be carried over for the second day's sales.

NEGRO GETS $60 IN GROCERY RAID ON FAIR STREET

A negro, whose description tallies closely with that of one who has committed several hold-ups lately, entered the grocery store of A. Gorsky, 817 West Fair street, shortly before 8 o'clock Tuesday night and robbed the cash register of $60 while Gorsky was held at the point of a pistol.

According to the report made by Call Officers L. P. Higgins and M. B. Cartwright, the negro was wearing a handkerchief as a mask and entered the store after all customers had departed.

GEORGIA POSTAL OFFICIAL CHARGED IN EMBEZZLEMENT

Arrest of Julius E. Hudspeth, assistant postmaster at Cedar Springs, Ga., on charges of embezzling postal funds in the amount of $425 was reported Tuesday to Joe P. Johnston, postoffice inspector in charge, by Inspector W. B. Brannon. No details of the transaction were given, but the report stated that the evidence was complete and that a full confession had been obtained.

Theft of approximately $100 from the postoffice at Buffalo, S. C., was also reported to Mr. Johnston Tuesday. The report stated that the safe had been rifled.

FORGERY OF SALES TICKETS AT STORES IS CHARGED HERE

Indictments in two cases of alleged forgery of names to sales tickets were returned Tuesday by the Fulton grand jury. Mrs. Margaret Nash was named as defendant in three forgery and two false personation indictments, while Mrs. Thelma Perkins was named defendant in two forgery and two false personation true bills.

Mrs. Nash is charged with forging the name of Mrs. Thelma Hart at a local millinery, while Mrs. Perkins is charged with forging the name of Mrs. Lee Whitley, wife of Deputy Sheriff Whitley, and Mrs. D. J. Powers to sales tickets at a local department store for a fur neck piece and other goods.

SUIT TO RECOVER UNION RAILWAY MRS. AIKEN'S RINGS FILED IN COURT

Recovery of diamond rings valued at $1,250 from Carl V. Aiken, son of the late Mrs. Annie Mae Aiken, is sought in a trover action filed Tuesday in Fulton superior court by Earl M. Carman as administrator of Mrs. Aiken's estate.

Mrs. Aiken was slain by her husband, Sam F. Aiken, who was convicted and sentenced to death for the murder. The trover suit alleged that Carl Aiken, the son, had refused the demand of the administrator for the rings. It was said Tuesday night by Roy S. Drennan, attorney for the administrator, that the rings were turned over to the sheriff following the filing of the suit. Carman was appointed administrator of Mrs. Aiken's estate on the petition of Sam F. Aiken, it was said.

Inman Lodge No. 637, F. and A. M. this morning will dedicate a memorial to Union railway employees at exercise observing the laying of the cornerstone in Hollywood Memorial park, located on the river car line.

Raymond Daniel, grand master of Georgia, will preside, and Rex, Charles L. Bass, past grand master and director of Masonic welfare in Georgia will deliver the principal address. Judge E. D. Thomas and Judge Virgil Moore of the Fulton superior court and Judge Jesse M. Wood, of the criminal court of Atlanta, will take part in the exercises.

Music will be furnished by the Southern railway employees' band which will furnish music at the exercises which begin at 10:30 o'clock.

NORMALCY RETURNS TO JAILBREAK SCENE

1,300 Prisoners Sullen After Failure to Escape—Three Killed in Try.

Danemora, N. Y., July 23.—(AP)—Clinton prison, known throughout the underworld as "Siberia," today was nearing normal after the failure yesterday of 1,300 desperate convicts to battle their way to liberty and after a night spent under the sleepless eyes of scores of guards reinforced by 14 state troopers.

The hoots and hisses flung by the conquered prisoners at the guards last night after they were bulldozed into returning to their cells, leaving three of their fellow rioters dead, had ceased today. In their place was sullen silence, or, at most, a guarded grumbling.

Prison, state and county authorities were prepared to investigate today the background of the riot which led to the simultaneous storming of three walls by the battalions of desperadoes yesterday morning.

It appeared probable that the state department of correction would sift the persistent report here that the battle had its motive in the fact that the men had asked for new potatoes instead of old for their meals, and wanted a full holiday in the yards Sunday, requests that had been refused. They have had half of Sunday for baseball games, hand concerts, and other forms of amusement.

Mecca for Atlanta Housewives This Week

The Constitution's free cooking school proved to be the Mecca of housewives of the city Tuesday, when the great food exposition got under way. Pictured above is the throng of more than 2,000 women, as seen from the stage at Loew's Grand theater, where the four-day electric cooking school will be continued today, Thursday and Friday, after being attended by elated throngs of housewives Tuesday. The school is conducted each morning from 10 to 12 o'clock by Miss Bernice Lowen, famous Chicago home economist.

46 NATIONS BIND SELVES TO PEACE

Northampton, Mass., and will leave for home a few hours after the ceremony. Former Secretary Kellogg reached here Sunday and the diplomatic corps has returned to Washington almost entirely to participate in the proclamation ceremony and to attend the luncheon which President Hoover is giving later.

The president's address and a description of the ceremony in the blue room of the White House will be broadcast over the networks of the National Broadcasting Company and the Columbia Broadcasting system, starting about 1 p. m.

Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, said today he would represent Russia "at least in spirit" at the White House ceremony tomorrow.

Although a signatory to the pact, Russia will not be represented at the White House gathering because the soviet government has not been recognized by the United States.

As chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, Borah successfully piloted the treaty to ratification in the senate last session. He and Senator Swanson, of Virginia, ranking democrat of the committee, were invited to the ceremony.

The Idaho senator long has advocated Russian recognition.

HOUSEWIVES GREET COOKING EXPOSITION

Remaining classes, today, Thursday and Friday, officials in charge of the electric cooking school stated following Tuesday's performance in predicting even larger crowds for today's session. Arrangements will be made to place extra seats in the orchestra pit of the theater for the three remaining days, and those who attended the opening session as well as newcomers, are advised to come early to be sure of a seat when the stage performance gets under way promptly at 10 o'clock.

Herbert Porter, director of advertising of The Constitution, formally opened the paper's free all-electric cooking school Tuesday morning, introducing Miss Lowen and Mrs. Carol B. Crawford, director of the Georgia Power Company's home service department, who is assisting Miss Lowen.

The recipes of delicious food for the family and party table included on the opening day's program and covered in lecture and actual detailed demonstration by Miss Lowen, were ham roll steamed in thrift cooker, planked porterhouse steak, steamed potatoes (for planked steak), tropical gingerbread, cheese, sticks, Georgia peach pie, lettuce stuffed with cream cheese, a starchless plate, and two sandwiches, one sweet and one tart.

Miss Lowen, who is nationally known as home economist of the Chicago Electric Cooking bureau and has met with brilliant success in conducting cooking schools, similar to The Constitution's, in principal cities throughout the nation, went through her list of ten highly cherished recipes with ease and skill that completely amazed the vast gathering of housewives, who numbered among themselves many well known for their talent in the culinary art. With lucid explanation and thorough demonstration of each article of food prepared, the electric cooking school director presented the first day's course in scientifically planned menus and correctly cooked meals in a way most profitable to those attending.

Today's Program of Recipes.

"I am overjoyed with the wonderful response that the women of Atlanta are giving The Constitution's electric cooking school," Miss Lowen stated following her first day's activities as director of the school. "It is a wholesome indication for the home life of the city when so many housewives exhibit a progressive attitude in regard to their kitchens and express the eagerness that I witnessed at the Grand theater Tuesday to carry into their homes the latest developments of modern home economics."

"In my program this morning I will present the following recipes: Electric cooking of peaches, white layer cake, chocolate icing, filled cookies, steamed macaroni mold, tuna fish croquettes, broiling on a skewer—bacon stuffing—and avocado and grapefruit salad."

A new list of recipes are to be demonstrated each day at the cooking school. Souvenir programs, with the recipes of the day printed in detail, will be given to each person as she enters the door of the Grand theater. The Constitution invites the women of the city to be the paper's guests at today's cooking class, as well as for the Thursday and Friday sessions, without charge or obligation of any kind.

A section in the third gallery will be reserved for colored cooks, who are invited by the paper to attend all sessions of the electric cooking school. A request has been made by officials in charge of the school that children under five years of age not be brought to the sessions as a means of convenience to the large audiences attending the school.

Local Firms Co-operate.

Cooperating with The Constitution and Miss Lowen in making the cooking school of greatest interest and profit to the women of Atlanta are the following well-known business concerns, furnishing articles for the model kitchen and dining room:

Automatic Coal Burning Corporation, iron fireman.

Great A&P Tea Company, meats, vegetables, groceries and baking powders.

Corniglia Brothers, market baskets. Charbox Company, charboxes.

Edison Electric Appliance Company, Hotpoint ranges and electric appliances.

Alexander-Seewald, G-E electric refrigerators and one-half-minute ice cream freezers.

Fulton Market, fish and sea foods. Georgia Power Company, Hotpoint ranges and electric appliances.

General Electric, Supply Corporation, radio, Thor-Washer, range.

Kamper's, Luxury brand canned goods, fancy groceries and spices. Lambeth-Eskridge, automobile, for Miss Bernice Lowen.

Lee Baking Company, Colonial bread cakes.

The Model Laundry, laundry and towels.

New Orleans Coffee Company, Morning Joy coffee.

Pillsbury Flour Mills, Pillsbury pancake flour.

Sauer Extract Company, Sauer's extracts and Duke's mayonnaise.

Red Rock Company, Hage & Hage, ginger ale.

Sessions of the cooking school start promptly at 10 o'clock in the morning and end promptly at 12 o'clock. The cooking school will continue at the Loew's Grand theater three more days, including this morning's session, coming to an end Friday after every phase of cooking for the home along modern methods has been presented.

GIRL SHOT DEAD, MOTHER WOUNDED, BY WEST POINT BOY

West Point, Ga., July 23.—(AP)—Miss Lois Koon, 18, was shot to death in her home at River View, Ala., early today, her mother, Mrs. Sallie Koon, 45, was seriously wounded and Charlie Aaron, son-in-law of the latter, is in the Lafayette jail charged with the shooting after wounding himself in an attempt to commit suicide.

It is said that Aaron entered the home by slashing a section out of a screen door and releasing a latch. He then opened the door and shot at Willie Koon, his father-in-law, but the bullet went wild. Then he turned the gun on himself. The bullet went through his temple, passed through the front of his head and smashed his nose. Doctors say he will probably recover.

Lew Adler to Stage First Selling Event of Importance Since Store Opened 23 Years Ago

Unloading Given as Reason by This Famous Men's Wear Store. To Be Store-wide.

LEW ADLER

Atlantans looking forward for this event. Since 1906—for 23 years the name of Lew Adler has been identified with the business history of the South's most progressive city, in selling men's wear and clothing of the highest quality and never deviating from carrying only the most dependable merchandise procurable from the largest makers and manufacturers in American and European markets.

Now a living example of modern equipment and merchandise but never in their history have they sponsored a selling event of such magnitude and importance.

Nearly a Quarter of a Century.

Lew Adler opened the doors to this high-grade Atlanta Quality Men's Wear Store with masculine merchandise in an attempt to commit suicide.

It is said that Aaron entered the home by slashing a section out of a screen door and releasing a latch. He then opened the door and shot at Willie Koon, his father-in-law, but the bullet went wild. Then he turned the gun on himself. The bullet went through his temple, passed through the front of his head and smashed his nose. Doctors say he will probably recover.

An institution built upon confidence, strict integrity and fair dealing. Stating the truth in its advertising and from the very beginning advocating such methods, always the leader in establishing the tenets of high scrupulous frankness in business.

A firm may be ever so anxious to please, but unless its merchandise is of dependable quality its service does not count for much.

Now comes this gigantic sale involving every dollar's worth of this fine clothing and men's wear stock in a sale in a class by itself, with genuine store-wide mark down, every floor, every department, every article in this store will share its quota of values, positively no sale merchandise will enter this event, all of the merchandise that will be advertised will be only the choice high-grade stock that is now in this fine store.

Unloading is the reason for this event, the policy of this store requires that all merchandise that is bought in a season to be sold in the season that it is bought, no merchandise can be carried over from one season to another, that's the policy and that is why this event will be staged.

Friday, July 26th, will be Lew Adler day in Atlanta, sponsoring the greatest selling event in the history of this fine shop for men, truly an event of startling proportions and unusual savings for all this section of the south.

Preparations are now being made in marking down the stocks, tagging, arranging, sorting the stocks in order to serve all Atlanta and this section of Georgia alike, new sales force has been added, everything will be in readiness and nothing left undone to extend to their good customers and the buying public, the usual Lew Adler service.

This firm realizes fully no sales event can be a sale unless it is store-wide, owing to the new drastic price concessions this sale will be for cash. Remember Friday at 10 o'clock, July 26th, is the time, day and date of Atlanta's greatest selling of quality men's wear of merit.

To the readers of this paper—it will do well to keep their eyes on Lew Adler's ads that will appear in this paper this week—a sale in a class by itself.—(adv.)

'DRY KILLING' TRIAL WILL BE HELD TODAY

Case of Constable Luke Ballenger, Slayer of Phillips, Delayed a Day.

Buchanan, Ga., July 23.—(AP)—A crowd which overflowed the Haralson county courthouse and halted traffic in the streets dispersed quickly today when the murder trial of Constable Luke Ballenger was postponed until tomorrow on motion of Solicitor-General S. W. Ragsdale.

The prosecutor said he was not ready to proceed with the case against Ballenger, who is under indictment for the fatal shooting of Grady Phillips, 25-year-old sawmill worker, last month. Phillips was killed as he rode along a highway in an automobile with several companions who had just left at Ballenger's command.

Solicitor Ragsdale announced that he hoped to select a jury from the regular panel of 60 drawn for the present term of court, and to begin the presentation of evidence before noon. More than 75 witnesses have been summoned by the defense and prosecution.

Ballenger, who was re-elected last fall for his second term as constable, testified at his preliminary hearing that he fired one shot at the tires of Phillips' car after the singing and shooting of the second day of the trial in complaints of disorderly conduct.

A search of the car failed to reveal any liquor.

Four attorneys, including United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith, of Atlanta, will represent Ballenger. Solicitor Ragsdale will be assisted in the state's case by W. W. Mundy, of Colatown, and James Smith, of Carrollton.

H. PERRY SULLIVAN TAKES OVER PAPER AT WAYNESBORO

Waynesboro, Ga., July 23.—(Special)—H. Perry Sullivan, son of S. L. Sullivan, editor and publisher of the Waynesboro True Citizen, has taken over editorial control of the paper since the death of W. L. Sullivan, the active editor, some weeks ago. Mr. Sullivan is a young newspaperman, graduate of the Henry Grady School of Journalism, and for a time was on the staff of the Augusta Herald. The True Citizen is one of the strongest weeklies in Georgia.

HARALSON COUNTY AUDIENCE HEARS SPEECH BY HARRIS

Buchanan, Ga., July 23.—(AP)—Senator William J. Harris addressed a crowd in the Haralson county courthouse today, discussing briefly his efforts to exclude Mexican immigrants from this country.

Senator Harris will address the students of the University of Georgia summer school at Athens tomorrow.

SOIL CONSERVATION WILL BE FEATURED AT FARM SESSIONS

Dawson, Ga., July 23.—(Special)—The eighty-third annual meeting of the Georgia State Agricultural Society will be held in Valdosta at the Dan Ashley hotel on Thursday and Friday, August 1 and 2, with Judge Peter W. Meldrim presiding.

A. E. Gibson, of Dawson, who is secretary of the society and who arranged the major part of the program, states that the slogan of the convention will be "Soil Conservation," and declares that the society intends to work along the lines of soil and forest conservation for the next year and that a concentrated effort would be put forth to co-operate with the several other agencies throughout the state to induce Georgia farmers to devote more attention to soil building and caring for their forests.

The officers of the convention are: Judge Peter W. Meldrim, Savannah, president; J. B. Wright, Cairo, vice president, and A. E. Gibson, Dawson, secretary-treasurer.

CORDELE LAWYERS PLAN TO ENTERTAIN BAR ASSOCIATION

Cordele, Ga., July 23.—(Special)—Members of the Cordele bar are making preparation to entertain the Bar Association of the Cordele judicial circuit here Friday night. Charles R. Crisp, congressman from the third district of Georgia, will deliver the principal address. In addition to the banquet and the address of Judge Crisp, there will be other interesting features.

The association was organized more than a year ago, and meets quarterly, going from one county to another in the counties comprising the Cordele circuit. A. McDonald, of Fitzgerald, is president of the association, and Watts Powell, of the Vienna bar, is vice president.

PRINCESS ILEANA DRIVING HERSELF ON AN AUTO TOUR

Bucharest, Rumania, July 23.—(AP)—Princess Ileana, driving herself, was speeding today through Rumania toward Czechoslovakia and Austria, en route to the Sigmaringen castle of her cousin, Prince Friedrich, of Hohenzollern.

She and her companion, Miss Marr, will remain three weeks at Sigmaringen, where several members of the former German imperial family, including Prince Friedrich's younger brother, Prince Franz, are also present.

There have been reports recently that the princess would become engaged shortly to a German prince, whose identity was not announced. Her two cousins, nephews of her father, the late King Ferdinand, married two sisters, daughters of the Prince and Princess of Sax.

En route to Sigmaringen, Princess Ileana and her companion will stop at Vienna and Munich.

CROWN RESTS IN CASE AGAINST REYNOLDS

Testimony for Rich Young American Will Be Heard Today.

London, England, July 23.—(AP)—The British crown rested its case today against Richard Joshua Reynolds, rich 23-year-old American on trial for manslaughter at the Old Bailey, famous London court. The charge grew out of the death of Arthur Graham, an Englishman, in an automobile and motorcycle crash on the Bath road near Burnham last May.

Young Reynolds, son of the late founder of the Reynolds Tobacco Company, came to England last spring on a yachting holiday. His home is Winston-Salem, N. C. Reynolds is the head of the Reynolds Airways Co., Inc., former owners of Curtiss field.

Crown witnesses today identified Reynolds and testified he was drunk on the night his automobile is alleged to have crashed into the rear of a motorcycle ridden by Graham, causing fatal injuries to the Englishman.

Tonight the men and women on the jury inspected the alleged death car. Tomorrow the defense will tell its side of the story and the case is likely to reach the jury late tomorrow.

If convicted, Reynolds will be liable to several years' imprisonment.

Reynolds again was permitted bail and when court adjourned he returned to his residence in Grove End road, St. John's wood.

Tomorrow he is expected to take the witness stand at the Old Bailey under the direction of his legal staff, headed by Norman Birkett, king's counsel. Reynolds entered a plea of not guilty when the trial started yesterday.

Inspector Neal, of Burnham, testified today that Reynolds still was suffering from the effects of drink the morning after the accident. He said Reynolds then offered to get a specialist to see the injured man. He quoted Reynolds as saying: "I will give you a check for 500 pounds sterling for this purpose if necessary."

Inspector Neal warned Reynolds his offer might be construed as the admission of liability and advised him to talk to a solicitor.

Police Constable Waller, who arrested Reynolds at Chiswick, testified when Reynolds got out of the automobile he was unsteady, his eyes were bloodshot and he smelled strongly of drink. Reynolds denied he was drunk when the officer took him into custody.

BANK LIQUIDATORS TO BE APPOINTED UNDER NEW LAW

Tallahassee, Fla., July 23.—(AP)—Comptroller Ernest Amos announced today that he would not appoint receivers for any of the state banks failing within the past two weeks until an act of the 1929 legislature affecting receiverships becomes operative July 30.

The new law classifies receivers as "liquidators," and leaves within the discretion of the comptroller the appointment of one "master liquidator," or "liquidators" to handle one or more banks, with certain limitations placed upon commissions allowed them.

Fifteen banks, including a large Tampa institution, closed in a single day last week, with a few scattered failures reported since that time.

FLORIDA QUARANTINE PLANS TO BE AIRD

New Regulations for Shipping To Be Outlined Friday at Meeting.

Orlando, Fla., July 23.—(AP)—Announcement of the terms and conditions of the proposed new federal quarantine regulations to govern forthcoming shipments of citrus and other fruits and vegetable hosts to the Mediterranean fruit fly will be made by Dr. C. L. Marlatt, chief of the plant quarantine and control administration of the United States department of agriculture, at a meeting at Winter Haven next Friday night.

This was learned today in a telegram from Washington stating that both Dr. Marlatt and Secretary of Agriculture Hyde had accepted an invitation from Colonel R. M. Shearer, president of the Florida Citizens' League, to come here and acquaint themselves with the fruit fly situation.

Dr. Marlatt and Secretary Hyde expect to arrive here Friday morning and spend the day in and about Orlando observing results of the eradication progress and acquainting themselves with the situation in general.

On Saturday they intend to continue their inspection trip northward to Jacksonville, where they will depart for Washington.

One Vine Yields Three Watermelons Weighing 182 Pounds

Waycross, Ga., July 23.—(Special)—Three watermelons off one vine, weighing a total of 182 pounds, is a record established by J. F. Harrison in Cherokee Heights. The melons were grown in Mr. Harrison's garden. One of the melons weighed 54 pounds, another 56 pounds and another 62 pounds. They are of the Tom Watson variety.

STANDARD PROPOSES
GIANT OIL MERGER

Chicago, July 23.—(P)—A merger of oil companies whose securities have a current market value of $875,000,000 was proposed by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana today.

Directors of the Indiana company offered stockholders of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company seven shares of Standard Oil stock for six shares of "A" or "B" stock of the Pan-American Company, the offer terminating November 30. Standard of Indiana stockholders were called to meet at Whiting, Ind., August 27 to ratify the plan and to approve an increase in capital of the Standard Oil Company from 15,000,000 shares to 25,000,000 shares of $25 par value. This would augment the authorized capitalization from $375,000,000 to $625,000,000.

The Standard Oil directors proposed to acquire the Pan-American Company, in which it already owns a 15 per cent stock interest. Pan-American stock closed on the New York Stock Exchange today at 61 3/4 and 61 5/8, while the Standard Oil issue closed on the curb at 55 1/8.

"Directors of the Indiana company," said President E. G. Seubert in a statement, "who are closely associated with activities of Pan-American, believe that the interests of the stockholders of both companies can be best conserved and promoted by a closed union and identity of ownership of the two companies—the Pan-American stockholders who make the exchange will, of course, through the ownership of Indiana stock which has paid dividends for over 30 years, enjoy the benefit of a dividend paying stock and share in the future prospect of Pan-American development."

Verdict of Suicide

Returned in Death
Of Bainbridge Man

Cuthbert, Ga., July 23.—(P)—A coroner's jury today returned a verdict of suicide after an investigation of the death of Jim Shiver, of Bainbridge, a bus driver.

Shiver shot himself through the head on the public square here. Shiver's widow said her husband had been dependent over ill health.

62 CHINESE DROWN,
REPORTS STATE,
IN SHIP CRASH

Shanghai, July 23.—(P)—Sixty-two Chinese passengers of the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Company steamer Hsinking were drowned Sunday afternoon when the ship collided with the Japanese steamer Tatsuno Maru, of Weihaiwei, during a heavy fog.

The Hsinking sank within 20 minutes. Forty-two of those aboard were picked up by the Japanese steamer which was en route to Kobe, according to the company's information. Fog hindered the rescue work.

CROWDS GREET AIR

laid" head at the field when the planes arrived. The Kiwanis Club met the visitors, escorted them to a large hangar where lemonade, ice cream and cake and roots were waiting for all in the planes.

Americus, too, had another surprise for the members of the N. A. A. on the tour. A check for the entire charter membership of a new chapter of the National Aeronautic Association was handed to Governor Hallman, the second such check to be received for new chapters in Georgia since Monday night, when the Athens chapter led the way.

20 Chapters Is Goal.

The tour has set a goal of 20 chapters in the association, which sent Major Christopher to Georgia to be squadron commander of the flight around the state and which enabled the tour to have Captain A. B. McDaniel enter the flight in an army air corps plane.

In Albany tonight, the tour party first was taken to the Gordon hotel. From there the guests were motored to the country club for an informal gathering with Albany air tour committee members, city officials and others interested in aviation.

Dinner at Radium Springs followed as part of the entertainment provided until pilots and passengers were returned to their hotel about midnight for some rest and sleep in preparation for a 7 o'clock start on the second day of the tour.

The cities visited today have made excellent progress in the field of aviation.

LaGrange has an excellent airport, most of it completed since the first pathfinder trip. A national aeronautic Association chapter is assured within the next 30 days at this point. Columbus showed such an interest in the tour planes and party's arrival that it is assured that this key point on the Alabama line will take advantage of its strategic position.

Americus, since the first pathfinder trip, has purchased from the government the great Southern field, wartime training field for army pilots, and promised that before the 1930 flight has reached Americus, the old army hangars would be down and new buildings erected in their places. The field is to be placed in perfect condition and will become one of the best airports in the south if not the nation. Plans are in process for pilots and a training school as well as possible aircraft industries.

Albany, air-minded to the nth degree, has placed its municipal airport in such really wonderful condition that every pilot who landed on it this afternoon pronounced it "perfect."

Every plane in the tour has functioned perfectly. All pilots are working together and take-offs and landings are beautiful sights.

Lieutenant Colonel Harris E. Wilkinsham, referee, and Hugh Dubois, timer, started the pilots off from Atlanta on the previously adopted routine and all have slipped into the system. Major Christopher laid out without a hitch.

Columbus was witness to a parade of automobiles, filled with the air tour party and led by motorcycle policemen. The parade went from the airport into the city, across the Flint river into Alabama and back to the Raleigh hotel where the chamber of commerce gave a luncheon to the aerial visitors.

LaGrange Sighted.

Squadron leaders sighted LaGrange from about 2,000 feet elevation and circled the city and the big Callaway

Jordan, chairman aviation committee of Macon council and mayoralty candidate; Mayor Luther Williams; Bob Pennington, mayor pro tem. of Atlanta; Earl Ward, operation manager, Interstate; Charles L. Bowden, city alderman, and manager of Wofford Oil Company, Macon.

As pretty a picture from the air as anyone might wish to see, hundreds of automobiles were parked at the northeast corner of the tract. A rope was up to keep the crowd back and on this line was a dense throng of interested LaGrange people.

Official Welcome.

On the field as the squadron came down, were Quillian, Cason, J. Callaway, of the Callaway mills; P. E. Redding, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Leonard Young, president of the Junior Chamber; J. L. Cahill, president of the Lions Club; Mayor Pro. Tem W. H. Turner, and Fuller Callaway, Jr., chairman of the Jaycee Aviation Committee.

The Macon crowd was lined up along the road as the squadron reached Miller field. One after another planes dropped down to the runway and taxied to the line under directions of Referee Lieutenant-Colonel Harris E. Wilkinsham.

Mayor Luther Williams, of Macon; Lincoln McConnell, secretary of the ding good-bye for four days. The "All-Georgia Air Tour" was under way.

The squadron circled Griffin at 7:35, Barnesville at 7:47 and Forsyth at 7:57. Macon was reached at 8:15 o'clock.

Kenneth Rogers, Constitution staff photographer, took aerial views at the four cities. Doug Davis circling low over the business districts. These photographs and many others of all the cities on the tour route, will be run in the gravure section of The Constitution over a period of several months, giving an air picture of three-fourths of Georgia.

NIGHT CONTROL.

WELCOME PLANNED AT LAWRENCEVILLE

Lawrenceville, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—All of this section is looking forward to the coming of the squadron of airships of the "All-Georgia Air Tour," due at the airport one mile south of Lawrenceville Friday morning.

Mayor Houston and the city fathers are having mowing machines going over the field, all that is necessary to put it in first-class condition to take care of the fleet of planes on the educational land good-will tour of Georgia. The landing field here embraces 62 acres.

City council and the Kiwanis club will have charge of refreshments for the tourists and during the stay several short speeches will be made expressing the deep appreciation of the people of this section to the air tourists and to The Atlanta Constitution as sponsor of the "All-Georgia Air Tour." A large and enthusiastic crowd is expected to be at the field during the stopover.

LOUISVILLE READY FOR AIR TOURISTS

Louisville, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) This is aviation week in Louisville. Everything is set for the coming of the "All-Georgia Air Tourists" who are scheduled to arrive here at 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

Thorough preparations have been made for this event. The town has declared a holiday and the population will turn out en masse to greet the fleet of planes.

The big field one mile northeast of the little city has been well marked. A wired indicator and all such minor details have been looked after for the safety and accommodation of the pilots. This is a refueling point and also a luncheon stop.

The Kiwanis club will entertain the visitors at an old-fashioned Georgia barbecue. This will be served at Nimrod Springs, a mile south of town, to which point the aviators will be taken in automobiles under direction of the reception committee which is composed of Mayor R. L. Rethen, R. G. Price, J. E. Phillips, H. N. Hardeeman, Sr. and W. R. Siquefield.

Many inquiries have been made as to the hour of arrival and the country side at large will be here to help citizens here welcome the pioneers of the air in Georgia travels.

SAVANNAH TO FETE
SMALLER PLANES.

Savannah, Ga., July 23.—(P)—Savannah chapter, National Aeronautic Association, perfected its plans tonight to receive the smaller planes of the "All-Georgia Air Tour," which is due at Daffin field at 4:15 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, including "Miss Savannah," a Waco plane, entered by the American Oil Company.

Miss Ethel Thomas will be the sponsor at the plane and Mayor Sausser, accompanied by city officials and representatives of the county, also will be present to greet the fliers.

Much regret is expressed here that the large new municipal airport is not in condition yet to receive the large planes. This airport will contain over 700 acres when completed.

The squadron to come to Savannah will leave Waycross at 3:22 and after touching Savannah will fly to Brunswick. The local aeronautical chapter tonight endorsed the object of the tour.

Captain Frank Hawks and Roy Collins, manager of the Ford tour, due here in October, are expected here within a few days to look over the progress of the new airport.

Funds for Veterans' Pensions And Milledgeville Sanitarium Asked by Hardman in Address

Revenue for Institution Must Be Increased and Loans Repaid, He Tells State Assembly.

The Georgia legislature should make provision at its present session for the payment of definite fixed sums to Confederate pensions at definite fixed times and should provide for increased revenue for the state sanitarium at Milledgeville to take care of insane people for whom there are not now room, Governor L. G. Hardman said Tuesday in his message to the general assembly.

In his message, the governor pointed out that he recently borrow $200,000 under a ruling of the attorney-general which was used to pay pensions of veterans. The governor said some arrangement must be made for the repayment of this sum.

Huge Sum Due. Discussing the state sanitarium at Milledgeville, the governor said $250,000 is due the institution for new buildings which was appropriated by the legislature in 1927 without any provision being made for the revenue to meet the appropriation.

The message of the governor follows: "I desire to call to your attention the condition that exists in reference to the pensions of the Confederate veterans, which are to be paid quarterly at the rate of $200,000 per annum.

"The first quarterly payment was paid April 10, 1929. There had accumulated $150,000, which was collected from the cigar and cigarette tax for the payment of pensions. This sum of money could not be used for any other purpose.

"There was due the pensioners of this state for the first quarterly payment $347,081. It is clear to be seen that if the total sum of money, $347,081, which was due the pensioners could be paid it was necessary to borrow $200,000.

Money Lacking. "The amount available to check in the state treasury April 10, 1929, was $70,000, which makes it apparent that the money was not available to check for the purpose of paying the pensioners at this date.

"Then, if the above amount of $347,081 could be paid, the state must borrow money. The governor, in order to ascertain the authority invested in him to borrow this sum of money, addressed a letter to the attorney-general asking his opinion as to whether or not the governor had the right, under our law, to borrow this sum of money.

"The sum of $200,000, under the authority vested in the governor, as recommended by the attorney-general, was borrowed for the purpose of completing the payment of the first quarterly payment, and the sum so borrowed to draw interest from date and payable September 10, 1929, which must be paid back to the lender at that date.

"No debt shall be contracted by or on behalf of the state, except to supply such temporary deficit as may exist in the treasury in any year from necessary delay in collecting the taxes of that year, (a) to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, and defend the state in time of war, or to pay the existing public debt, but the debt created to supply deficiencies in revenue shall not exceed, in the aggregate, five hundred thousand dollars, and any loan made for this purpose shall be repaid out of the taxes levied for the year in which the loan is made.

Other Payments. "There has also accrued another quarterly payment which should be paid not later than June. The sum due and payable during the second quarter is $335,672, which has not been paid.

"There has accumulated from the cigar and cigarette tax, all told—up to this time, $155,842.37, leaving a difference between the sum set aside from cigar and cigarette tax of $170,829.23, which it will be necessary to secure to complete the payment of the pensions of the Confederate soldiers for the second quarter.

"It does not appear to the governor that the $300,000, which is a part of the special sum of $500,000 of his borrowing capacity, should be used in again supplementing the cigar and cigarette tax that has accumulated for the payment of pensions—$155,842.37. It would leave the state unsafe, with but a small sum for the protection of the various interests as provided by law, and therefore, this should not be encroached upon.

"It is also apparent that if this sum of $170,829.23 was borrowed, we would have a very small amount in the state treasury, since today there is only $190,000 subject to check. Therefore, the governor strongly recommends that you make provision for the payment of Confederate veterans.

"It is also apparent to the governor that the mere fact of allocating funds does not furnish sufficient funds to pay the appropriations as provided by the legislature to the Confederate veterans; and that a definite sum should be provided and secured to be paid at definite times.

State Sanitarium. "There is due the state sanitarium for maintenance of the unfortunate at Milledgeville $100,000, which could be paid out of the general treasury, leaving $90,000 subject to check, which should be done.

"There is also due the state sanitarium for buildings, appropriated in 1927, the sum of $250,000. One building has been completed, costing the state, besides the equipment, $201,000, which cares for 420 patients. It will be necessary to provide revenue to care for $250,000 for buildings, which was appropriated in 1927 without providing revenue for the same.

"The number of inmates in this institution is 5,230. When the present building is completed, which is now under way, we could care for only 4,400 patients, on the allowing of 50 square feet per bed. In the dormitory, figuring on 100 square feet per dormitory space, our capacity would be around 3,200 patients. The architect's basis is 80 square feet per patient for room space. No definite amount of space has ever been agreed upon. However, 1,000 feet of cubic air is required for every individual.

"It is recommended by the superintendent, Dr. Swint, that it will be necessary in addition to the present buildings to have another building, costing something like $500,000, to provide for seven or eight hundred patients. We are overcrowded now, and there is yet a waiting list of more than 700 patients, 350 white females, 300 white males and around 200 colored males.

Construction Under Way. "These buildings that are now being constructed are fireproof. "I recommend to you the providing of revenue to take care of the important needs of this institution, including patients and buildings.

"There is no need that is more imperative than that of providing for revenue and room space for these unfortunate, and I recommend that you make provision at as early date as possible to provide for these unfortunate, and to provide a new building.

"The matter of changing to a new location for the negro unfortunate is being considered. I suggest to you that if the negroes, who are now a part of the 5,230 patients—there being 1,244 of these negroes, could be moved to the state farm, which buildings would be perhaps sufficient, and the other buildings renovated, we could care for the present needs of the state sanitarium at Milledgeville. In that event it would be necessary that you secure another site for the criminals, which would require buildings as well as farm lands.

"I am informed that the state farm at Milledgeville is not self-sustaining, and that they are in arrears in the operation of this department, there being appropriated $50,000 each year. The state prison farm has 3,700 acres of land with 77 buildings, which is valued at $155,675. If this indicates the value of the land and buildings, the land must be of a very inferior quality of soil, and the buildings, of a very low value.

"I commend this to you for your study and thought.

School for Defectives. "The school for mental defectives at Graceland, Ga., contains 325 acres of land and 17 buildings, which is estimated in the report furnished by the secretary of the state board of health at $113,687.

"These buildings are not especially suited for the work that is done at this school, and the quality of construction is not of the highest type.

"The 325 acres of land it appears to the governor are of very low type of soil. It is so poor that it doesn't even grow desirable shade trees, which should be on the grounds and in the parks for these children.

"It seems to the governor of this state that it is desirable that we have a better type of soil for truck farming for these children; and that we should also have soil that would be attractive in the way of growing vegetables that might interest some of the children of the higher type; also flower gardening and other things that some of the children at this institution would be especially interested in, and that would aid in the treatment and development of the mental defectives.

"It appears to the governor of this state, since our lands are so valuable and so very cheap at this time, that we should consider the advisability of securing a better type of soil, which would make the home for these defectives more attractive and desirable, and that could be secured at this stage of values at a very reasonable price. The value placed on this farm and buildings is $113,687. It is the judgment of the governor that this is too high a value for this property, and he recommends that the committee from the legislature which has in charge the inspection of the grounds and public buildings be directed to make an investigation in order that we may arrive at a more definite knowledge as to the value of this place; and also to investigate other places that would be more desirable for these unfortunate.

LATEST IN LUXURY FOR BUS TRAVEL IS REPORTED HERE

Paneled in American walnut, sumptuously upholstered, and provided with running hot and cold water, a new motor bus sleeper marks a new era in highway travel.

The new bus, the first of what is ultimately to be a large fleet, has recently been introduced by the Greyhound lines, operating here and in other principal cities. It is touring the country in an initial exhibition cruise before going into regularly scheduled service.

The bus has accommodations for 18 day passengers, with comfortable berths for eight. Dining facilities far excel anything ever attempted before, while a commodious "observation car" assures passengers ample opportunity to follow the beauties of the road in comfort and with a minimum of dust and dirt. A hot water heating system is used to keep the bus at a comfortable temperature during cold weather.

The bus cost in the neighborhood of $25,000. It is to be used primarily for transcontinental tours.

Styles that were "up-to-the-minute" a minute ago are going to be offered to Atlanta at attractive savings by Lew Adler, well-known haberdasher, to make way for styles that will be up to the minute in the approaching fall season, it was announced Tuesday.

Mr. Adler is recognized as a leading exponent of style in men's wearing apparel, and the method used over a long period of successful business years to attain this recognition was to avoid handling any item of men's dress after it had been supplanted through fashion's decree by a later style, the popular merchant explained. This is the reason for the nine-day "unloading sale" to be conducted by the Peachtree street clothing beginning Thursday. The occasion is more than just a sale, Mr. Adler pointed out in his announcement Tuesday. "It is an opportunity for the well-dressed men of the city to replenish their wardrobes with requirements of today, while we make ready to meet the requirements of tomorrow," Mr. Adler stated.

Because of the momentous undertaking the store is to be closed all day today to complete all details for the big event starting on Thursday, it was announced.

LEW ADLER PLANNING BIG 'UNLOADING SALE'

The monthly repayment loan plan, established by the Atlanta and Lowry National bank a little over a year ago, whereby responsible persons are enabled to borrow amounts ranging from $50 up to $1,000 without collateral, has proved to be such an overwhelming success that the bank is planning an immediate expansion of the service, it was announced Tuesday by Harry H. Johnson, vice president.

"The scheme was begun purely as an experiment," Mr. Johnson stated, "and it has worked to perfection. All payments have been prompt; we have not sustained a single loss, and it is our firm belief that, in addition to providing money for emergency use, the plan has benefited the borrowers by bringing them into contact with the banking organization and teaching them thrift.

Any reliable individual or firm may apply to any officer of the bank for these loans, and for security must have a good character, steady employment, and the signatures of two other responsible persons who become co-makers.

GRANT SERVICES SET FOR TODAY AT SPRING HILL

Services for Alexander Duncan Grant, of Marietta, who died Monday morning will be held at 10 a. m. today from Spring Hill chapel. Rev. J. G. Patton will officiate, and burial will be in Oakland cemetery. Mr. Grant, who had lived in Marietta for the past 16 years, was formerly a member of the advertising departments of The Constitution and The Journal.

Mr. Grant was prominently identified with club and fraternal organizations as well as being an active worker in religious circles. He was a member of the Presbyterian church at Marietta, a Knights Templar, a past commander of the Constantine Commandery, a Shriner and a Scottish Rite Mason. He was also a member of Kennesaw Lodge No. 13, Royal Arch Masons, the Marietta Golf club and the National League of Masonic clubs. Pallbearers will be: J. R. Holliday,

T. B. French, Warren A. Humphreys, R. Winston Harvey, E. E. Dallas, Mark Temple, Henry Coles and Grover Rothenberg.

Surviving Mr. Grant are his widow, a sister, Miss Irene Grant, of Providence, R. I., and two brothers, Roger Grant, of Providence, and Harvey Grant, of Washington, D. C.

Halley's Comet and Motor Cars

ONLY comets and meteors and other heavenly bodies have ever traveled so far so fast as the Studebaker President Eight when it sped 30,000 miles in 26,326 consecutive minutes!

And not just one President Eight of strictly stock design*, but four—two roadsters and two sedans—each completed 30,000 miles at average speeds ranging from 63.9 to 68.3 miles per hour!

That was a year ago. Yet these records still stand unapproached!

Of course, you will never demand such super-endurance from your car. But it stands to reason that a car which can perform so valiantly, will be infinitely more dependable and economical under average conditions.

Come, take the wheel of a President, Commander or Dictator Straight Eight. Then you will understand why Studebaker not only holds every official stock car speed and endurance record—126 in all—but leads the world in the sale of eights!

THE PRESIDENT EIGHT... $1785 to $2575
THE COMMANDER EIGHT... $1495 to $1675
THE DICTATOR EIGHT... $1185 to $1435

At lower prices STUDEBAKER offers three great lines of sixes:

The Commander Six $1350 to $1525; The Dictator Six (new, larger, finer) $995 to $1195; and The Erskine Six $860 to $1045.

All prices at the factory

Grant And Mooney March Through Third Round At New Orleans

GAULT'S MATCH IS POSTPONED UNTIL TODAY

Fourth Round Promises Spectacular Matches; Rain Delays Play.

New Orleans, July 23.—(AP)—The third round of the men's singles of the southern tennis tournament was played late today after rain had held the players off the courts and forced play on drenched clay. The favorites came through ready for the fourth round with several stars pitted against each other that promise sparkle and dash that, so far, have been lacking in the tournament.

Tomorrow's schedule prescribes one round of doubles, and two rounds of singles that should bring the men's open play down to the semi-finals. Women's singles also will start tomorrow.

Third round scores: Jack Mooney, Atlanta, defeated Clyde Nisson, Columbus, Miss., 6-2, 6-2.

Dan Murray, New Orleans, defeated William Sanders, Columbus, Miss., 6-0, 6-0.

Walter Hines, Columbia, S. C., defeated Bob Edwards, New Orleans, 6-1, 6-2.

Maurice Bayon, New Orleans, defeated Charles Hume, New Orleans, 6-3, 6-3.

Cliff Sutter, New Orleans, defeated Louis Lange, New Orleans, 6-2, 6-0.

Donald Cram, Nashville, Tenn., defeated Fred Eckstein, New Orleans, 6-3, 6-1.

Bryan Grant, Atlanta, defeated Early Maxwell, Memphis, 6-0, 6-1.

Robert E. Craig, New Orleans, defeated E. H. Kissinger, New Orleans, 6-0, 6-0.

Marion Wallford, New Orleans, defeated C. C. Hatfield, Nashville, de-fault.

Teddy Burwell, Charlotte, defeated J. D. Little, Tusculosa, 6-0, 6-2.

Harry Gault, Atlanta, had his match postponed until tomorrow.

Billy Hughes, Memphis, defeated W. L. Macnevin, New Orleans, 6-1, 6-1.

Arch Hubler, Shreveport, defeated Frank Foster, New Orleans, 6-3, 6-0.

Tommy Clines, Louisville, defeated Spencer Barnett, Lafayette, La., 6-0, 6-1.

FRENCH GLAD HUNTER IS OUT

America Conceded Greater Chance of Winning Cup, However.

Paris, July 23.—(AP)—Even the most rabid of the French fans, watching America's Davis Cup team practice three hours today under the brooding sun in the Roland Garros stadium, are willing to concede the United States a much greater chance of recapturing the famous cup than in 1928.

Odds against "Big Bill" Tilden and Company were three to two today. The selection of George Lott, 22-year-old Chicago collegian, to team with Tilden in the singles instead of the veteran Francis F. Hunter, has impressed the French fan favorably with their own chances. They feel that Lott will prove an easier opponent for Jean Borotra than Hunter, who for the past two years seemed to have the Indian sign on the bounding Basque.

French Jubilant.
Officials and players maintain a reserved attitude, but the fans themselves make no attempt to hide a feeling of real jubilation that Borotra will evade another meeting with Hunter, they recall the two victories of the New Rochelle publisher over Borotra in 1928 and Hunter's hard luck defeat in the French championships last June when with the American leading two sets to one, the match was called on account of darkness.

The French belief is that Lott's style is similar to that of Borotra and will be made to order for the Basque, who is conceded the supreme volleyer of tennis today.

"I'm glad that I'm rid of you so easy," Borotra told Hunter laughingly when they met in the stadium today.

"It seems tough to me," was Hunter's only comment. "I took me three years to fathom Borotra's game and learn to beat him. But it is all right. It doesn't matter who wins as long as America wins. If they thought Lott had a better chance than I it is quite all right with me. I'll be resting for George."

Youngsters Praised.
Wilmer Allison, young Texan, and John Van Ryn, youthful pair who will carry the American doubles burden, came in for a lot of attention today from French experts who deserted the center court, where Tilden was practicing with Karl Kozeluh, Czechoslovakian professional, and wandered over to No. 8 court, where the American youths were hard at it against the professionals, Martin Plax and Albert Burke.

"It seems as though the best doubles team France can put in the field will be none too good to beat these college boys," said Pierre Gillou, captain of the French squad, thinner than in 1928, spent an idle afternoon practicing leisurely with John Hennessey.

"There is such a thing as too much tennis in weather of this kind," Lott said.

World's Trotting Record Is Made

Elmira, N. Y., July 23.—(AP)—A world's trotting record for a half-mile track was established in an Orange county circuit race circuit race here this afternoon when Denny McKinnis, by a son of Lord Dwyer Will Dill, in the sulky, trotted the first heat of the 2:07 event in 2:04 1/2. Denny McKinnis's time shattered a mark of 2:05 1/2, established by Will Worthing four years ago.

Wayward Boye Goes After Record of the Robert E. Lee on 'All-Georgia Air Tour'

Albany, Ga., July 23.—Falling from the blue empyrean like a wounded buzzard, Wayward Boye, the Man Without Air-Mind, the typographical error in the aviation history of Georgia, made his famous barrel-roll landing here this afternoon at 4:37 o'clock (central standard Atlanta time).

Wayward's plane, "The Tail Spin," was the sixteenth in the flight on the "All-Georgia Tour." Wayward's plane was easily distinguishable by the "U-31" on its fuselage and by the slogan on the lower wing, "A Fifty-Million Dollar Bond Issue for Aerial Highways."

Anti-Annexation Troops Open Fire

With the rolling fall scored by "The Tail Spin," the first leg of the "All-Georgia Air Tour" was won. It must be won three times to become the permanent property of the owner.

With the first, faint, rosy streak of dawn at Candler field the squadron got under way. Considerable delay was experienced when a young lady who was to christen "The Tail Spin" broke the bottle over Wayward's head instead. Falling heavily, Wayward broke the left lower wing of his plane. This was repaired in a few moments with the aid of heavy wrapping paper and some twine.

"The Tail Spin" made a graceful backward take-off, a maneuver that incited riotous cheering from the throng of 90,000 people who had gathered to watch the start.

Passing over Barnesville, Ga., Wayward dropped a message in a bottle. It was picked up by a motorcycle officer. It read:

"Am going after the record of the Robert E. Lee. I already have bettered the mark established in 1888 by Casey Jones."

Between Barnesville and Forsyth, a low-hanging fog forced "The Tail Spin" far out of its course and after battling adverse winds on a 12-mile detour, Wayward finally made his way back to Macon four minutes late.

While the other aviators ate heavily at Columbus, Wayward stoically remained in his plane. He is sticking to his original plan of making the entire trip without food. Wayward Boye was fired on by anti-annexation troops. The plane was slightly wounded, while Wayward had two holes shot through his rudder. It is believed that Wayward was mistaken for an annexation spy. The incident has been referred to city council for investigation. Governor Hardman has ordered the Horse Guards polo team to stand by for an emergency.

Boston Braves Offer Pitcher For Parham

Spiller, However, Prefers To Deal With Brooklyn—Deal Pressed.

By Ed Danforth.

While Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Nationals, sorted over his stock of pitchers yesterday for one suitable to be sent to the Crackers at once in return for the privilege of buying Bob Parham at the end of the season, a new offer for the former Georgia Tech star was made R. J. Spiller.

Fred Mitchell, business manager of the Boston Braves, in a long distance telephone conversation with President Spiller, offered to supply the Crackers' need for a pitcher by offering up Spiller, who is in return for an option on Parham. Bobby Gilks, Braves scout, will be in Atlanta today to further the deal if possible.

FAVORS DODGERS.
However Spiller is planning to go through with Brooklyn, if possible, due to long association with Robinson and his scout, Nap Rucker. Final word from Brooklyn cannot dig up a pitcher that can be sent here will be obtained some time today, Spiller says.

"Robbie has several pitchers available," Spiller said last night. "and I may get Koussal, Dudley or Thorpe, or Phelps. I am hoping to get Koussal. Dudley went great for a time this year then seemed to develop stage fright and has not come so well lately. He might get back in his stride down here. Phelps is the Jacksonville pitcher for whom Robbie is dealing now."

"I believe the best time to strengthen a club is while it is winning. A new pitcher now would put the team on velvet."

PARHAM'S FAME.
The offer from the Braves to supply a pitcher now in return for an option on Parham indicates the widespread fame enjoyed by the ex-Jax star. If Brooklyn cannot dig up a pitcher somewhere, the Boston deal might be very useful. However, Spiller made it plain last night that he prefers to deal with Brooklyn, especially since the Flatbush critics and fans have been giving Manager Robinson such a wailing for passing up Parham as he did several days ago. Long friendship with Robbie influences Spiller's attitude, he says.

Battle, the infielder obtained from Waco for Frankie Zoeller, is due to receive a surprising wire from Spiller. Battle, it seems, is being notified that he had been sent to Atlanta wired President Spiller that he would report here for an advance of $300 per month on the contract he had with Waco.

To which President Spiller replied last night:

"You can report here at your present salary or stay in Texas and let

LEGION TEAMS CLASH TODAY

Semi-Finals in Sandlot Baseball Race Here Reached.

All four semi-final teams in the American Legion's baseball tournament will be in action today. The Inman Park Cardinals opening a series with the Scottsdale club at Spiller park, while the Northside Terrers and the Southside Terrers will battle at Trammell Scott has scheduled the Inman Park Cardinals and Scottsdale to play daily, while the deciding game between the Terrers will be played Friday.

The two games scheduled today will begin promptly at 10 a. m., and there will be no charges to see the future Southside Stars in the second game of the series, the final count giving them the large end of a 15-to-3 score. To Vinson, stellar shortstopper, goes much of the credit for the victory as this lad hit safely on all but one of his trips to the plate. Fowler, doing the hurling for the victors, pitched a splendid game, yielding but five hits.

Martin Is Optimistic Over Southern Outlook

Says Early Season Attendance Losses Are Being Made Up—Praises Atlanta's Showing.

By Ralph McGill.
Constitution Staff Correspondent.

Memphis, Tenn., July 23.—Mr. John D. Martin, who plays all four instruments in the Southern Association-Harmony band, was non-committal today on anything bad.

Mr. John D. Martin was running over like a drinking fountain with optimism. It seems that the Southern league is about to gain back the lost attendance suffered in the first few months of the year and Mr. Martin believes it would be for the better.

Mr. Martin is a delightful, but serious young man. He positively refuses to break into the newspapers with any hot news. So far as the public may know, the Southern league might be sending out S O S signals every few minutes, but John D. Martin would see to it that "Old John Public" didn't have a single receiving set.

"It certainly is a great race we are having this year," he said today. "I think it is the best one the league has had in some years. There hasn't been a month when some club wasn't threatening. Early in the year it was Chattanooga. Then Birmingham got going. For a while it looked like one would catch Birmingham. Then Atlanta, New Orleans, Nashville and Memphis all got busy and now it is almost impossible to turn around in the first division without tripping over some other club. The fourth of July attendance was much better than last year and I am sure that the attendance will be all right when September comes around."

PRaises ATLANTA.
Mr. Martin had a word of praise for Atlanta. "That is a great baseball town," he said. "I am glad to see the Crackers up in the race. Atlanta fans are a fine lot and seem to know a lot of baseball. It is a real pleasure for me to visit Atlanta every year. I hope that I can get back there before the season closes."

Mr. Martin was asked what he thought about the failure of Washington to go through with the purchase of the Atlanta Baseball club.

"It certainly is nice weather we are having today," said Mr. Martin. "Memphis is unusually hot this time of the year, but today there is a breeze off the river and it is very comfortable here in the office. This reporter attempted to pin Mr. Martin down on the Washington case, and asked point blank what he thought about the Washington case.

"I'll tell you," said Mr. Martin. "I don't think the traffic situation is nearly as bad in Washington as in other cities. Those fellows know how to lay out a city. They must have known that Henry Ford was coming along some day."

"Say, you know, Ed Danforth certainly is a fine fellow, when you get back to Atlanta, be sure and give him my regards."

"Did you ever hear?" said Mr. Martin. "I quit sitting on the bench? Certainly is an interesting story. When old Carlton Moleworth was

Atlantans See Night Baseball

Atlantans saw their first game of night baseball Tuesday night at Spiller field when Grinnell, a local amateur nine, defeated the American Athletics, 12 to 5, before 1,500 fans.

It was the second game of a double-header, the first being played in the afternoon, and was won by Grinnell, 8 to 3. There was plenty of hitting in both games and the locals had the best of the fielding in both games.

The visitors had six ladies playing with them and those ladies played baseball along with the men. Three played infield and two the outfield position, with one a utility.

CARDS RECALL BILL MCKECHNIE

Former Pilot Will Take Charge Today—Southworth to Ints.

St. Louis, July 23.—(AP)—William (Bill) McKechnie, who piloted the St. Louis Cardinals to a National league championship in 1928, was recalled today by President Sam Breadon from the Rochester International league "farm" to take over the management of the fallen Red Birds in the hope that he can put them back into the pennant race.

Billy Southworth, until today manager of the 1929 Cardinals, goes back to the Rochester club as manager. The change was made as the Cardinals returned home from one of the most disastrous road trips in recent years. They are barely in the first division.

RETURNS TODAY.
The change in managers is effective tomorrow.

McKechnie's return to St. Louis marks the fifth change in management of the Cardinal club since May, 1925, when Rogers Hornsby replaced Branch Ricker. Hornsby took over the club when it was in last place and ended the season with it in fourth place. He served again in 1926, winning the first pennant and world championship for St. Louis.

However, during the winter he was at loggerheads with Breadon and was traded to New York. Bob O'Farrell, most valuable player to his club in the league that year, became manager in 1927, and the Cards finished second. Then McKechnie, who had been O'Farrell's assistant, took over the club.

BREADON CONFIDENT.
"McKechnie has made good wherever he has served," Breadon said today. "I myself took the world series of 1928 too much to heart and now realize that I have made a mistake. I still think we have the best ball club in the National league, and believe that under McKechnie we will again get into the race for the pennant."

Breadon said he had not lost faith in Southworth. "I think," the Cardinal owner said, "that his case is just like that of a minor league ball player who has come up a year or two too early."

FAULTLESS BALL.
The Crackers were playing just that sort of baseball—intelligent and faultless. They gave the veteran Oldham the kind of support every wife thinks she should get from her husband. It was great baseball.

Memphis tied the score at one-all in the second when one of the three batters who had been in the game was cashed at the plate on a stolen base and a single.

They took a brief lead by jamming over two runs in the fifth. Tilden was the only inning in which Oldham was in serious trouble. Johnny Berger singled and was sacrificed to second. Williams flew out but Oldham lost control temporarily and walked Brasill and Prothro to fill the bases.

Sammy Leslie, the hard-hitting first sacker, delivered in the pinch. He slapped a single through second a yard out and Ed Davis, up in the sixth, Jack Sheehan doubled to start the inning. Bob Parham scored him with a neat single to center field. Al

CRACKERS WAKE UP.
After that inning Oldham was invulnerable. The Crackers, after being comparatively peaceful at bat, had a sudden and brilliant uprising in the sixth. Jack Sheehan doubled to start the inning. Bob Parham scored him with a neat single to center field. Al

N. Y. Castoffs Become Stars BASEBALL

Dundee, Fields Finish Training

By Jay Vessels.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
New York, July 23.—(AP)—Making mistakes is not the usual thing with John McGraw, one of the greats of baseball, but he has made three moves in recent years that are proving costly to him now.

He dropped Hack Wilson because he didn't like Hack's batting stance. He dropped Pat Malone because he hated Pat as a loafer. He dropped Burleigh Grimes because he thought Burleigh was through.

If manager John even had one of the three now he probably would be easily better off so far as the 1929 pennant race is concerned. And that is what is what concerns the Little National who hasn't won a flag since 1924.

Wilson batted .343 for his first 16 games. Grimes won 15 out of his first 16 games. Malone won 13 out of his first 17 games.

It's the Grimes case that counts, though. Burleigh after one year with the Giants during which he won 19 1/2 games, was traded to Pittsburgh for Vic Aldridge. Vic did not prove the Giants' standing, but Big Burleigh hustled along last year, his record in Pittsburgh was 22-10.

Atlanta spot cotton closed 22 1/2 points down at 19.00. Sales, 4,830. Cotton has dropped more than 80 points in the past two days.

New York, July 23.—(AP)—Cotton continued to decline today, influenced by a favorable report from the weather bureau and expectations of the fairly favorable market for the week. The opening was steady at a decline of 7 to 20 points under a renewal of the selling pressure from yesterday's decline. July was relatively quiet, representing about 5,000 bales. This may have helped to stabilize the market and slight rallies after the opening were followed by renewed weakness. The southwest seemed to improve sentiment favorably and the opinion was expressed in some quarters that the crop was probably making fairly good progress.

At the lowest active months showed a decline of 26 to 32 points, with July selling at 18.35, December at 19.00 and January at 19.01. Closing quotations were slightly up from the previous day. The opening here on cotton might have been expected in view of the heavy decline in the cotton futures market. This brought in some buying, but the English market soon eased off and the buying here later was attributed to a trade report that the condition of the crop and that the rate of the harvest was approximately that usual during the afternoon on reports of increased seedling infestation and damage in Mississippi.

Private cables said there had been liquidation and heavy selling in Liverpool on the south. Exports of better quality were reported. The market closed at 18.35, making 8,167,442 so far this season. Port receipts, 2,642. United States port stocks, 591,007.

COLLINGS-FLORRID WEDDING PLANS ARE ANNOUNCED

Park St. Methodist Church Scene of Rites August 14

Among the lovely weddings of late summer will be that of Miss Lelia Collings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edward Collings, to Richard Westcott Florrid, which will be solemnized at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, August 14, at the Park Street Methodist church in West End. Dr. Marvin Franklin, pastor of the church, will read the marriage service in the presence of a large assemblage of friends and relatives.

The lovely young bride-elect will be given in marriage by her father, Robert Edward Collings. She has chosen as her matron of honor Mrs. Malcolm E. Tucker, Jr.

Miss Eleanor Myers and Miss Mary Florrid, sister of the groom-elect, will act as bridesmaids.

Mr. Florrid will have as his best man Robert Parham, and the groomsmen include Frank Ethridge and Arthur McCash.

The ushers will be Arthur R. Myers, A. J. McClure, James Smith, Jr., and Ort Jenkins.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony, Mr. Florrid and his bride will leave for a wedding journey through Florida. Upon their return they will reside in Atlanta.

Tuesday evening, August 13, following the wedding rehearsal at the church, the bride-elect's brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Myers, will entertain the bridal party at their home on Rogers avenue.

Mrs. Worthington Is Honor Guest.

Mrs. Ralph Worthington, of Washington, D. C., and Miami, Fla., who is the guest of Mrs. L. G. Hardman at the executive mansion in Ainsley Park, is being accorded a cordial welcome by her group of Atlanta friends.

Mrs. Worthington was honored yesterday at an informal luncheon by Mrs. Hugh Dorsey at her home on West Peachtree street.

Covers were placed for eight close friends of the hostess and honor guest. In the afternoon Mrs. Worthington shared honors with Mrs. Shelby Myrick, of Savannah, who is spending the summer in Atlanta, at the informal tea given by Mrs. George Brown at her home on Milledgeville avenue, the guest list including ten friends of the hostess and the two honor guests.

Mrs. Jacobs Explains Peace Celebration In Timely Article

BY MRS. SINCLAIR JACOBS.
Chairman Cause and Cure of War Committee, League of Women Voters.

On August 17, 1927, there was a jubilation in Paris. The representatives of the greatest powers of the world had signed a pact renouncing war. The full significance of the occasion was not appreciated in the far corners of the globe. Until the home governments began interpreting the treaty, until the editors and the powers behind them began to dissent and decide, and until in the United States the eminent senators began to struggle the people were hardly aware of the nearness of the realization of the supreme ideals of morals and religions.

In all countries campaigns to arouse and inform public opinion were organized, in most instances by women organizations.

In this country the brunt of the work was carried on by ten national women's organizations among them, in round position, the League of Women Voters. As a result of the campaigns carried on throughout this land over 12,000 sets of resolutions demanding ratification of the treaty without reservation were presented to the senate on the morning of January 15. Before sundown the treaty was ratified by a vote which lacked only one vote.

On April 5, 1927, the tenth anniversary of the entry of the United States into the World War, the foreign minister of France, H. Brinard, issued a statement which has now become the opening of a new chapter in the world's history, which should prove a turning to the establishment of that end toward which civilization has ever striven. On July 24 President Hoover will celebrate the culmination of that statement. It is a moment for people and nations to stop and think. War as an instrument of national policy is a thing of the past.

What is to take its place? Arbitration, conciliation, the world court, and conference, such as is going on in the council of the League of Nations.

You can help establish world peace, for remember you live in a democracy where public opinion can easily be translated into government action. Keep informed as to what steps are available to take, understand those and support them. At the next session of congress the Root protocol regarding our adherence to the world court will be acted upon. Discussion about disarmament is constant; there will necessarily be many conferences about it. The inter-American arbitration treaty signed at the sixth Pan-American conference last December has not yet even been presented to the senate for ratification. Join the League of Women Voters. Subscribe to the incentive pamphlets it issues on all subjects relating to world peace and "fight the good fight with all your might."

Miss Winn Honors Miss Kathryn Heady.

Miss Elizabeth Winn entertained yesterday afternoon at her home on Miss street for Miss Kathryn Heady, bride-elect of August, at a bridge-miscellaneous shower. The high-score prize was won by Mrs. J. In the evening of this date Miss Estelle Boynton will entertain Miss Newell and Mr. Whitley at a buffet supper at her home on Habersham road.

George Adair will give a swimming party Monday evening, July 29, at Druid Hills Golf Club in honor of Miss Newell and Mr. Whitley.

Miss Mendel and Dr. Goldstein Wed at Home Ceremony

Centering social interest in this city and throughout the south was the marriage of Miss Helen Mendel to Dr. Irving Hershel Goldstein, which was solemnized at high noon Sunday, July 21, at the bride's home on Briarcliff road. The ceremony, which was witnessed by only the immediate members of the families, was marked by unusual beauty and simplicity.

Officiating were Rabbi T. Geffen and Rabbi H. Epstein.

The spacious home was artistically decorated with ferns, palms, gladioli and dahlias. Vari-colored dahlias and roses decorated the dining-room. The bride's table was overlaid with a hand-some lace cloth and centered with a silver urn filled with roses. Two pink burning tapers in silver holders added to the elaborate arrangement of the table.

Preceding the ceremony a violin solo was played by Meyer Segal, accompanied by Morris Segal, pianist. The wedding party entered from the hall and passed through an aisle formed by the guests to the altar. Mr. and Mrs. Goldstein, the groom's parents, entered together. Mrs. Goldstein wore a gown of grey chiffon trimmed in flesh. Her shoulder corsage was of pink rosebuds and perennials.

The groom was accompanied to the altar by his best man, Max Cuba. The matron of honor, the bride's mother, wore a handsome gown of tan chiffon made with the uneven hemline. Her shoulder corsage was of roses and orange blossoms. Little Miss Norma Koplin, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a dainty frock of pale green georgette trimmed in flesh and carried a silver basket of pink rose petals. Miss Bees Goldstein, the groom's sister, was maid of honor and wore a pale blue chiffon dress. She wore a picture hat and carried an old-fashioned nosegay.

Master Milton Romm, the bride's nephew, was ring-bearer and carried the ring on a white satin-laced pillow. The beautiful bride entered with her father, H. Mendel, by whom she was given in marriage. She was gowned in a charming Chanel creation of brown chiffon trimmed in tan real lace. Tan accessories completed the costume. The exquisite bridal bouquet of pink and tan-colored roses showered with orange blossoms was tied with a golden satin ribbon.

After the ceremony the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Mendel, entertained the guests with a dinner.

Miss Sylvia Mendel kept the bride's book. She was dressed in flowered chiffon.

Mrs. Goldstein is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Mendel. She is a graduate of girls' high school and attended the University of Georgia and

LaGrange Alumnae Adds New Chapter.

Among the new chapters of LaGrange alumnae that have been formed in the state is the Meriwether chapter, the first meeting being held at the home of Mrs. R. J. Atkinson at Greenville, recently. This chapter will include all LaGrange college women at Manchester, Gay, Woodbury, Durand, Warm Springs, Laurensville, Greenville and Chipley.

Mrs. R. J. Atkinson, of Greenville, who for many years has been actively affiliated with the woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church, was elected president of the chapter. Mrs. M. G. Boddie, of Chipley, was elected vice president and Miss Corinne Martin secretary.

University of Alabama, from which she graduated in May.

Dr. Goldstein is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Goldstein, of this city. He is a graduate of the boys' high school and the Atlanta Southern Dental college. He is a member of the Alpha Omicron fraternity, Omicron Kappa Upsilon, a national honorary dental fraternity, Fifth District Dental Society and is secretary of the Jewish Physicians and Doctors' club of Atlanta.

During the day Dr. and Mrs. Goldstein left for Jacksonville. The bride's traveling costume was a Monte Hickey fall ensemble of blue and grey and she wore grey accessories to match. After a few days' tour of Florida the couple will leave on the Cherokee for a trip to the east and Canada. After August 10 they will be at home on Briarcliff road.

Miss McGahee To Be Honored At Party Series

Miss Emily Gardner will be hostess at luncheon at her home on Candler street in Decatur, honoring Miss Emily McGahee, of Columbus, the guest of Miss Myrtice Mattison.

The table will have as its center decoration a silver basket of garden flowers in pastel shades. The guests will include Misses Myrtice Mattison, Marie Simpson, Nelle Pattillo, Zella Marie Behn and Emily McGahee.

Miss Mattison will compliment her guest, Miss McGahee, at a matinee party today. The guests will include Misses Emily Gardner, Marie Simpson, Nelle Pattillo and Emily McGahee. Other parties are being planned, the dates to be announced later.

Josel-Tenenbaum Wedding Rites Are Solemnized at Home Ceremony

Of cordial interest to a wide circle of friends was the marriage of Miss Florence Elayne Josel to Abe R. Tenenbaum, which was solemnized at noon yesterday. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Harry H. Epstein at the home of the bride's parents on Piedmont avenue, in the presence of the immediate families.

The home was decorated with a profusion of ferns and cut flowers. In the living room an improvised altar of palms, interspersed with white wicker baskets filled with varicolored flowers and brass candelabra holding white burning tapers, formed a beautiful background for the wedding party.

Preceding the ceremony, Enrico Leide and his orchestra rendered a program of nuptial music. The bride, entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. The blonde loveliness of the bride was enhanced by her wedding ensemble of blue chiffon fashioned with black fox fur. Her flowers were pink orchids and valley lilies.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. Mrs. A. Josel, mother of the bride, was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. A. Tenenbaum, mother of the groom. Mrs. Josel was gowned in black chiffon featuring an uneven hem line, with which she wore a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses. The groom's mother wore blue chiffon, a shoulder bouquet of Ophelia roses.

During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Tenenbaum left for a wedding trip to California and upon their return will make their home in Atlanta. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Josel, formerly of Darien, Ga., and a sister of Nathan Josel, the bridegroom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Tenenbaum.

Mrs. Barnwell Is Hostess.

Mrs. William H. Barnwell, Jr., was hostess at a luncheon yesterday at 1 o'clock at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Covers were laid for Mrs. H. Clay Moore, Mrs. Walter Hill, Mrs. Raymond Kline, Mrs. Ivan Allen, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Charles Le Roux, Mrs. George West and Mrs. Barnwell.

Misses Clapp Are Hostesses.

Misses Sue Allen Clapp and Mary Clapp were hostesses yesterday afternoon at a swimming party at the Druid Hills Golf Club in compliment to their cousin, Miss Betty Clapp, of Savannah, and Miss Tallulah Lutz, of Social Circle, Ga., the guest of her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Newman.

Assisting in the entertainment of the guests were Mesdames D. K. Clapp, mother of the hostesses; G. F. Newman, Arthur Flower, surveyor; E. E. Egan, Misses Kate and Martha Hall and Anne Chamberlain, of Seattle, Washington.

Invited to meet the honor guests were 40 members of the younger set.

REPORTS DUE SOON ON TRAFFIC SURVEYS

Prospect of early relief of downtown traffic congestion was set forth in an announcement of C. C. Whitaker, chairman of a special traffic commission named by Mayor L. N. Ragsdale, that committees are now at work assembling data gathered from several exhaustive surveys.

Mr. Whitaker's report was filed with the mayor and released from the mayor's office. It told of the painstaking efforts of the commission in cooperation with city departments and private concerns in making a local act-finding survey designed to relieve congestion.

Reports Almost Ready.
Preliminary reports of the various committees are now in progress and will be completed within the next few weeks, according to George Deibert, secretary of the Atlanta safety council and a member of the committee, who also is acting as secretary.

The following details of the wide scope and extent of the survey were filed with the mayor at the same time Mr. Whitaker made his announcement.

Traffic Counts Involving the movement of more than 1,100,000 vehicles were made at 125 locations in the city. Four hundred individuals, including employees of city departments and co-operating organizations, were required to make these counts, all of this servicing being volunteered by the individual or donated by the employer.

Census of Parking.
On two occasions a census of parking in the downtown area was taken to determine the available street parking space and the manner in which existing regulations are obeyed. Members of the police department and about sixty Boy Scouts assisted in making these counts, each of which covered about 100 street blocks.

Automobile dealers provided vehicles and observers for making four time study runs over a series of twelve especially designated routes. Each of these runs involved a trip in each direction over the route, and was made in morning and afternoon rush periods on two separate days.

The total number of pedestrians passing the important intersections during the heaviest traffic hours of the day was counted, requiring the use of fifty men.

A count was made of the patrons entering twenty-five retail stores and office buildings in the central district, to determine the mode of conveyance utilized by the patrons in reaching the downtown area, and indicating, in cases where automobiles were used, the place where same was parked, whether at the curb or in the rear of the building. About forty Boy Scouts, together with employees assigned by co-operating stores, assisted in making this count.

Hospital To Get $1,700 Milk Fund Raised by Masons

The sum of $1,700 will be added to the milk fund for crippled children at the Scottish Rite hospital today when B. C. Boyles, president of the Atlanta Masonic Club, hands over to D. King, treasurer of Scottish Rite Societies in Atlanta, a check for that amount, representing the results of the club's drive last week to obtain aid for the fund. The check will be presented at the club's luncheon today at noon at the Winwood hotel.

"It comes like manna from heaven," Dr. Claude Hughes, chairman of the Masonic club fund committee, said Tuesday. "The Scottish Rite hospital is doing almost miraculous work in relieving crippled children, and funds received from the public club will go a long way toward helping the children who need help more than any one in the world."

According to Dr. Hughes, it takes $175 on the average to cure children who come to the hospital in various crippled conditions.

"If we use this fund for our hospital work, it is enough to turn out into the world 14 healthy boys and girls who without the treatment at the hospital would go through a hopeless cripple," he said.

The $1,700 was raised by the Masons through a public subscription to members of the Pi Pi society, who last week took up contributions in the lobby of Loew's Capitol theater.

LABOR PARTY BESET IN KEEPING PLEDGES

Difficulties Increase as British Industrial Troubles Grow Serious.

London, July 23.—(AP)—The labor government is finding difficulty in redeeming its industrial pledges made when the party was in opposition and during the election campaign. One of these promises was repeal of the miners' eight-hour day act passed by the conservative government after the coal strike. After long consultation with owners and miners, the ministers have reached the conclusion that simple repeal and revision to the seven-hour shift is impossible from the number of other factors to be considered.

President Graham, of the board of trade, informed the commons that solution was postponed until autumn. He declined to reveal details of proposed legislation but indicated briefly plans for reorganization of the coal industry.

The government desires owners to develop an organization for district marketing and a central scheme for co-ordinating activities of district organizations. The government is prepared to take compulsory powers where voluntary action fails.

The dispute in the cotton industry over an attempted cut in the wage scale has made no progress toward solution. Efforts continue in Manchester to get the parties together under the auspices of the labor ministry.

Meanwhile a new scheme is being organized in Lancashire with 5,000,000 pounds (about $74,000,000) capital by a number of prominent cotton men for a co-operative endeavor to provide a new bleaching, dyeing, printing and finishing plant which it is hoped will do something to restore prosperity to the depressed industry.

Interesting points about the suggested economic "United States of Europe" or "Co-operative Europe" came up during questions in the house of commons today.

Mr. Graham said that the government could not see its way to act on a suggestion that it get in touch with foreign ministers of labor and other matters to discuss such a proposal as a means of fighting American tariff increases. The government was satisfied that nothing was to be gained by any policy which involved discrimination.

DENY CORPS STANDARD LOST TO NICARAGUANS

Washington, July 23.—(AP)—Commenting on a dispatch from Frankfurt, Germany, that a delegate to the anti-imperialist congress had displayed an American "corps" flag which he and was captured by Nicaraguans, marine corps headquarters said today that no American standard ever had been taken into action in Nicaragua.

The only marine corps standard which might be described as a "corps" flag, it was stated, was in the marine barracks at Washington. The only American flags in Nicaragua, it was explained, were those of the marine regiments, and none had been lost.

Marine officers who were on duty during the more active days of the Nicaraguan campaign recalled that a Sandinista in Honduras at one time broadcast a story that the forces of the insurgent chief had captured an American marine flag.

Photographs of this flag, the officers said, were circulated by the Sandinistas when compared with American flags in Nicaragua were found to be those of a poor copy of a regular emblem.

MEMBERS OF KLAN BARRED AS JURORS IN DAMAGE ACTION
Members of the Ku Klux Klan are not competent to sit as jurors in a case in which the Klan, as an organization, is involved either directly or indirectly, according to a decision handed down Tuesday by the supreme court in the case of Sterling Bryan against the Mowbray Furnace Company and the Ku Klux Klan. Bryan brought suit for $50,000 for personal injuries received while repairing a furnace in the regalia plant of the Klan. The jury returned a verdict for the defendants after the trial judge set aside the verdict and ordered a new trial. It was alleged by attorneys for the plaintiff that three members of the jury were members of the Klan. The supreme court reversed the verdict of the trial court and remanded the case.

BODIES OF WOMEN FOUND BY LAKE; TWO MEN SOUGHT
Westmore, Vt., July 23.—(AP)—The bodies of Mrs. Yvonne Torrivane, of Lawrence, Mass., wife of a grocer there, and Miss Cecile E. Cornhill, a music instructor and church organist, of Haverhill, Mass., were found on the shores of Lake Willoughby today, the victims of what police believed was a double slaying.

William F. Leisher, 30, and Michael J. Tierney, 34, of New York, who police said were boating on the lake with the women last night, were taken into custody by Sheriff George Jenkins, of Barton. All had been vacationing at the lake.

Mrs. Torrivane's seven-year-old son was here with her.

Bulgarian Munitions Stored Stock Explodes; Many Are Killed
Athens, Greece, July 23.—(AP)—It was reported here today that there were many casualties and great damage Monday at Soufievka, Bulgaria, when a secret store of munitions accidentally took fire and 3,000 shells exploded.

Politikars at Belgrade published what purported to be a suppressed Sofia report that a munitions depot near the village of Sklijeff exploded recently, wounding 50 persons, some of whom died. Several thousand shells were exploded. It was said the government forbade the press to publish the story.

PLANS APPROVED Revised Bridge Proposal in Florida Okayed.
Washington, D. C., July 23.—(AP)—The war department today approved revised plans of the board of county commissioners of Suwannee and Citrus counties, Florida, for a bridge across the Withlacoochee river at Woods' landing.

Democratic Committee Circulates Borah Jibes At Tariff Provisions

Senator Declares His Views on Subject Public Property When Told of Publicity Activity.

Washington, July 23.—(AP)—An attack on the flexible provision of a house tariff bill by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, was circulated tonight by the publicity bureau of the democratic national committee.

In it the Idaho senator expressed the opinion that there "is no better illustration of the growth of bureaucracy to be had than the story of the flexible tariff," and that the present proposal "is in utter violation of the constitution."

Subsequently at his home Borah said his views on the tariff bill were public property and had been stated often, adding:

"If the democratic national committee distributes them, that is its business."

"Congress started out," said the Borah attack, made today and circulated by the democratic publicity bureau, "by authorizing the president, upon the ascertainment of a simple fact—to wit, the passage of a law in a foreign country, to put into effect certain rates. Congress next authorized the president, with the aid of the tariff commission, to ascertain the cost of production at home and abroad. Now in this bill they propose that he shall ascertain the difference in competitive conditions at home and abroad. In other words, we are now delegating the full taxing power to the executive."

Opposed Bill in 1922.
Senator Borah opposed the flexible provision when the present Fordney-McCumber tariff law was being considered in 1922.

Tariff developments at the capitol were marked today by word from a representative of Henry Ford to the senate finance committee that the automobile manufacturer favored free trade in the automobile industry.

Mr. Ford's representative in response to an inquiry by Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, who has been seeking to determine if any adequate reason prevails for the present 25 per cent tax on automobiles, Mr. Ford's views were given to the senator in a letter from his representative.

The republicans put in six more hours today behind closed doors in going over the house bill and almost completed the first schedule which deals with chemicals and oils. Senator Smoot said, however, all decisions on ratification and he made no announcement.

Majority Favor Basis.
The opinion grew today that a majority of the republicans on the committee favored adoption of the United States valuation basis in place of the present foreign valuation basis. This point pending the receipt of data from Rudolph Spreckels, California banker, today issued a statement urging non-partisan consideration of the tariff and sliding scale for sugar. Senator Smoot has under consideration a sliding scale.

"The beet and cane sugar interests on the mainland," he said, "Require protection not against the price of duty paid for raw sugar but against ruinously low prices for refined sugar with which they compete."

Citizens & Southern Bank Interests Acquire Control Of LaGrange Institutions

LaGrange National Bank
To Have Resources of
$3,000,000 as Result of Deal.

William Murphy, president of the Citizens and Southern National bank, announced Tuesday that the Citizens and Southern National bank, owned by the bank, has acquired control of the LaGrange National bank at LaGrange, Ga.

In connection with the transaction it was also announced that the LaGrange National bank has acquired the deposits and loans of the LaGrange Savings bank, giving the national bank resources of approximately $3,000,000 in addition to the $750,000 resources of the Citizens and Southern National bank.

It was said that the present interests will retain substantial holdings in the LaGrange National bank and that directors, officers and employees will be retained, with the addition of Mr. Murphy as chairman of the board, and H. Lane, vice president and executive manager of the Citizens and Southern National bank of Atlanta, as a member of the executive committee and the board of directors.

Operations of Institutions:
The Citizens and Southern bank maintains offices in Atlanta, Athens, Augusta, Macon, Savannah and Valdosta, Ga. The holding company owns the Atlanta Savings bank, the Citizens and Southern bank at Charleston, S. C., and the Dublin Bank and Trust Company at Dublin, Ga.

The last published statement of the Citizens and Southern bank gave total resources of more than $70,000,000. Effective July 10, $3,500,000 was added to its capital structure, $1,000,000 to its capital and $1,000,000 to its surplus, making total capital, surplus and undivided profits of more than $10,000,000. At the same time $1,500,000 was added to the capital of the holding company.

In connection with his announcement that control of the LaGrange bank had been acquired, Mr. Murphy said: "This forward step is in line with our policy established 20 years ago to extend the facilities of our institution to the key points of Georgia and the southeast."

Serves Important Section.
"LaGrange is located in one of the most promising sections of the state and the LaGrange National bank and the LaGrange Savings bank are widely known as most substantial institutions. Through business association with these banks, extending over a period of years, our institution has been most favorably impressed with the sound management that has been responsible for their steady progress. It gives us great pleasure to establish this affiliation with the LaGrange National bank through which we will be able to extend the complete facilities of the Citizens and Southern National bank to this important center of our state."

The LaGrange National bank and the LaGrange Savings bank were organized about 35 years ago by interests headed by Fuller E. Callaway. Indications were that the savings bank will discontinue banking activities and will operate as an investment company under an amended charter.

Cason J. Callaway, head of the Callaway interests at LaGrange, stated that he was pleased that officials of the Citizens and Southern bank shared his high regard for LaGrange banks. The mill interests headed by Mr. Callaway have had a successful and continued growth since their beginning in 1900 and now comprises nine cotton mills and five other manufacturing corporations. Mr. Callaway stated, he believed that specialization was becoming more and more important in business, and that both the manufacturing properties and banking interests could best be served by the mill organization devoting their time largely to manufacturing and by the bank becoming affiliated with such able specialists as the management of the Citizens and Southern National bank.

LOS ANGELES SET AS PORT FOR GRAF
ZEPPELIN WORLD TOUR

Berlin, July 23.—(AP)—The Hamburg-American Tourist agency announced today that Los Angeles, instead of San Diego, has been selected as the western American port for the Graf Zeppelin's round-the-world flight which is planned this autumn. Sixteen paying passengers have been listed for the next American flight of the Graf Zeppelin, which will be made early in August.

PREMIUMS STOP
Injury Makes Insurance Co.
Liable—Proof Unneeded.

Memphis, Tenn., July 23.—(AP)—Chancellor D. W. DeHaven ruled today that holders of insurance policies carrying a clause waiving payments in event of total disability may cease to pay premiums the moment they are disabled, without submitting formal proof of their injuries to the insurance company.

A policy holder was injured four days before his payment was due. He allowed it to lapse, and died five days after the date it was due. An insurance company contended that, since it had not been notified of the injury, the lapsed payment voided the policy. The chancellor ordered the company to reimburse the beneficiary's estate. Attorneys for the company said the decision was of great importance to insurance companies and policy holders. They said the decision will be appealed.

HAMMER MURDERS IN FLORIDA CLEARED

Alligator Trapper Confesses
Part in Slaying of Aged Couple.

Tavares, Fla., July 23.—(AP)—Mystery, which for nearly three weeks had surrounded the hammer murders of Levi Allen and Mrs. Angie Gillis, shortly filling station operators at Mohawk, was cleared today when H. W. Prescott, alligator trapper, confessed participation in the crime and implicated J. E. Pike, of Winter Garden.

Pike denied, however, that he was connected with the killings. Both he and Prescott are held under murder warrants and a special session of the county grand jury has been called for tomorrow to further investigate the case.

Prescott confessed, authorities said, after Russ Rogers, who is being held as a material witness, named him and Pike as the actual slayers. He told police they admitted to him that they had killed the couple during an argument over the payment for some gasoline and soft drinks they had purchased at the filling station on the night of July 6.

SNOOK MURDER
TRIAL PLANS SET FOR START TODAY

Columbus, Ohio, July 23.—(United News.)—The last-minute marshaling of forces for the murder trial of Dr. James H. Snook was completed today. Tomorrow morning the former Ohio State University professor of veterinary medicine will go to trial before Judge Henry L. Scarlett charged with having first won the affections of Theora Hix, 24-year-old graduate student in medicine, and then having murdered her.

CALLES PASSES
ST. LOUIS ON TRAIN TO NEW YORK

St. Louis, July 23.—(AP)—General Plutarco Elias Calles, former president of Mexico, arrived in St. Louis at 1:25 p. m. today on his way by rail to New York from where he will sail for Europe. Indisposed by travel and under a physician's care, Calles remained in his private car and would not see interviewers.

Fair Weather, Rising Mercury Seen for Today

Continued fair weather and slight increased temperatures is the outlook for Atlanta today as seen by C. F. von Herrmann, local meteorologist, who states that he is not expecting any drastic changes in the near future.

The mercury in the official thermometer might have been found in the neighborhood of 67 at an early hour Tuesday morning and gradual rise during the day constituted a maximum figure of 83. Today's range will be from approximately 69 up to 85, Mr. von Herrmann thinks.

LAVARRE BRINGS SUIT IN NEWSPAPER ROW

Asks $2,500,000 From International Paper Company.

Columbia, S. C., July 23.—(AP)—The International Paper Company and the International Paper & Power Company were named as defendants in a suit for $2,500,000 damages filed in court of common pleas here by William Lavarre, who with Harold Hall purchased four South Carolina and Georgia newspapers during January, March and April.

The petition charges the companies with having violated an agreement to loan Lavarre $2,500,000 for financing and purchasing newspapers over a period of two years and with having entered into a "fraudulent conspiracy" along with Harold Hall to defraud him of the benefits of a plan and contract which he conceived.

He charges that at the time of the federal trade commission hearings in Washington he was induced to give the paper company a demand note for $250,000 instead of a two-year note and that after he refused to suppress the reports of the hearing as carried by the Associated Press threats were made to call the note. He charges that Harold Hall, acting for the company, sought to have editors of the papers suppress news of the hearings. Attachment proceedings were instituted today against holdings of the paper and power companies in the state. The International Paper & Power Company, parent company of the International Paper Company, has an interest in the Santee-Cooper river canal and hydro-electric power development, interests in newspaper contracts, loans to Lavarre and, according to the petition, collateral security held on newspapers in South Carolina.

Lavarre is president of the Piedmont Press Association, a holding concern organized to operate the Columbia (S. C.) Record, the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle, the Spartanburg (S. C.) Herald and the Spartanburg (S. C.) Journal.

In his petition Lavarre says that he holds options on newspapers in the southeast for prices aggregating $1,200,000 and traces the history of his purchase of the newspapers.

Lavarre also charges that the defendants "arranged with Hall" to "quit the work he was assigned by the plaintiff with the Augusta Chronicle" and to file suit "claiming a fifty-fifty partnership with plaintiff in the ownership and operation of said newspapers and seeking dissolution of said partnership."

Lavarre asks judgment for $2,500,000 with advances already made credited to the amount, cancellation of the demand notes, and an injunction to prevent the paper and power companies from interfering with the papers.

ALABAMA NEGRO TO DIE FOR MURDER OF HINES

Eufaula, Ala., July 23.—(AP)—Lester Bouyer, negro and ex-convict, today was sentenced to be electrocuted at Kilby prison, state penitentiary at Montgomery, the morning of August 23 following his conviction by a Barbour circuit court jury here for the murder of Jack Hines, Eufaula mechanic, the night of July 10.

The jury verdict, returned after 10 minutes' deliberation, recommended the death penalty. Sentence was imposed by Circuit Judge J. S. Williams. Bouyer was returned promptly to the state prison aboard a special train and under guard of more than 200 Alabama national guardsmen called out by Governor Graves to protect the prisoner against threatened mob violence. He was not tried on an indictment charging criminal assault upon Hines' companion the night of the slaying.

The courtroom was dotted with more than two dozen guardsmen, bayonets fixed and 25 state law enforcement officers but at no time during the trial was there any indication of a disturbance among the 200 odd spectators. The court square likewise was manned by guardsmen and every person allowed entrance to the courtroom was searched for weapons.

Only three witnesses were placed on the stand by the state and the defense offered no testimony, although a plea of not guilty was entered by defense counsel. The principal witness for the state was the young woman. She testified that Bouyer accosted Hines near the outskirts of Eufaula and demanded money. Refused, she said the negro threatened to shoot Hines and with her companion pleading for his life, stepped back several paces and fired. The witness' left arm was bandaged where the negro was said to have wounded her after shooting Hines. Other witnesses were Dr. W. S. Britt, of Eufaula, and Captain Potter Smith, of the state law enforcement department, to whom the negro confessed the crime.

Permitted a few words before sentence was imposed, the negro requested the judge not to delay his death. Bouyer served two terms in the state penitentiary for burglary and grand larceny and a physician's certificate at the prison led to his identification as Hines' slayer.

AUSTRIAN PRINCE
WEDS IN SECRET TO BARONESS

London, July 23.—(AP)—A Vienna dispatch to the London Daily Mail today said Prince Franz Paul Maria Karl August, 17-year-old ruler of the principality of Liechtenstein, was married secretly yesterday evening to Franziska von Eros, nee Baroness Cuthmann.

The wedding, which had been announced for today, took place in a Vienna church with only a few friends present.

The prince succeeded his brother, Johann II, at his death early in the year. He was Austrian ambassador to St. Petersburg at one time and is the richest landowner in Austria and Czechoslovakia.

His bride is 51 years of age. Her first husband, Bela von Eros, died 11 years ago.

WHEELING TO USE NEW CLEVELAND RAIL TERMINAL

Washington, July 23.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission today authorized the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad to abandon its present passenger station in Cleveland, Ohio, and use the new station under construction by the Cleveland Union Terminal Company.

The Wheeling and Lake Erie has contracted to sell its present site to the Terminal Company for $1,600,000. The application to abandon the station was fought by minority stockholders of the railroad, who contended the proposed sale price was too low. Testimony was introduced at the hearing for the minority stockholders that the property was worth as much as $7,000,000.

The Terminal Company contended the Wheeling and Lake Erie site was necessary for construction of the new station on the ground that if it could not be obtained, approaches to the station would have to be built at an incline.

FRUIT FLY BAR, EASED TO PERMIT LIME SHIPMENTS

Washington, July 23.—(AP)—The first modification of the fruit fly quarantine on interstate shipments of Florida citrus fruits was announced today by Secretary Hyde, who granted permission for the movement of limes produced in Monroe and Dade counties.

The secretary also disclosed that he and Dr. C. L. Marlatt, chief of the agriculture department's bureau of entomology, would go to Florida on Friday to study with state officials further methods of combating the fruit fly. The secretary declared he would seek full co-operation between federal and state officials in remedying the pest's ravages.

The lifting of the quarantine on limes was made, the department said, because intensive inspection in the two counties and adjacent counties showed no infestation of the fruit fly, and laboratory tests indicated fruit fly eggs laid in sour limes failed to develop and be hatched. The order is subject to cancellation if developments warrant.

STEAMER RAMS ICEBERG; IS FIRST IN FIFTEEN YEARS

Washington, July 23.—(AP)—Coast guard headquarters today received its first report of a collision between a steamer and an iceberg in north Atlantic shipping lanes since the coast guard began to patrol the waters 15 years ago.

The cutter Modoc advised that the steamer Veneria, bound for Glasgow, hit an iceberg Saturday off the Grand Banks east of Newfoundland and had turned toward port.

Private advices were that the steamer Cairngowan hit an iceberg in a fog two weeks ago and was towed to St. John's, N. F., but coast guard officials said they had heard nothing of this.

BODY OF CHOKED MAN WILL ARRIVE IN ATLANTA TODAY

The body of George Wilburn Bray, 37, which was discovered floating in the river near Jacksonville Monday, will arrive in Atlanta today, and, after funeral services here Thursday, will be carried to Athens for interment, J. Austin Dillon Co., funeral directors, announced Tuesday.

Reports here were that four men were being held in Jacksonville in connection with the case.

G. WILBURN BRAY.

An investigation of Bray's death. Mrs. J. M. Freeman, of 407 Pryor street, S. W., said she had been advised by her sister, Mrs. J. H. Roberts, who went to Jacksonville to identify the body, that their brother was last seen with four men and a woman in an automobile. Reports were that Bray had been choked to death before being thrown into the water.

Bray was reared in Athens and spent considerable time in Atlanta with relatives. He left this city two months ago for Florida. In addition to Mrs. Freeman and Mrs. Roberts, Bray is survived by two other sisters, Mrs. H. Y. Williams, of 382 Capitol avenue, and Mrs. M. O. Smith, of Gray, Ga., and three brothers, W. T. Bray, of 508 Pryor, S. W.; T. E. Bray, of Cochran, and M. F. Bray, of Athens.

Bray's wife, formerly Miss Jamie Burnside, of Athens, died several years ago, it was said.

Used Exclusively for the All-Electric Cooking School

To assist the home-makers of Atlanta to a full appreciation of the benefits derived from electricity in the kitchen, The Atlanta Constitution is sponsoring a series of demonstrations to be held at Loew's Grand theatre at 10 a. m. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. Bernice Lowen, noted home economist, will be in charge.

Miss Lowen has selected the years-ahead General Electric Refrigerator exclusively for use in her lectures, and among the myriad of kitchen tasks she will perform will be demonstrations on making frozen salads, desserts and the many other iced specialties.

The General Electric Refrigerator also assures Miss Lowen that the foods to be used in her demonstrations will be properly preserved at all times. For the General Electric Refrigerator is the last word in modern electrical conveniences and provides a constant temperature always below fifty degrees, the danger point.

There are now more than 250,000 users of General Electric Refrigerators and they haven't spent a cent for repairs or service! After attending Miss Lowen's lectures, stop in at our display rooms and see the various models of the General Electric Refrigerator, any of which can be purchased on conveniently spaced payments.

DID YOU ever stop to think that ten minutes a day spent in scouring scorched and sooty pans amounts to sixty hours in a year—ten hours a day for an entire week (except Sunday).

In watching Miss Bernice Lowen, Home Economist in charge of this electric cooking school, you will note that electric cookery on the Hotpoint leaves no sooty pans, and scouring is practically unknown, for a low, steady, controlled heat is available always.

Do away with dirt and soot—scour your last pan today and for the rest of your "cooking days" know the joy of cleanliness—in pots and pans, in clean kitchen walls, in unspoiled curtains.

And that's only ONE reason for owning a Hotpoint. Coolness, convenience, economy—these and others merit your immediate investigation of the new Hotpoint.

It has not been so many years ago that the furnishings of the home were selected because they "looked well," little thought being given to the comfort and convenience of the housewife. Today, however, comfort, convenience and beauty are three of the requisites of almost any article that goes into the modern home. That is the reason that the General Electric Products shown below were selected for The Constitution Electric Cooking School. Each of them is the last word in beauty, and each was designed especially for the comfort and convenience of the modern housewife.

SCREEN GRID
RCA RADIOLA 46

Perfect reproduction of all the notes in the musical scale—the natural deep rumble of the base drum—the shrill notes of the fife. All are brought to you clearly over the Screen Grid RCA Radiola 46, the latest achievement of the RCA laboratories.

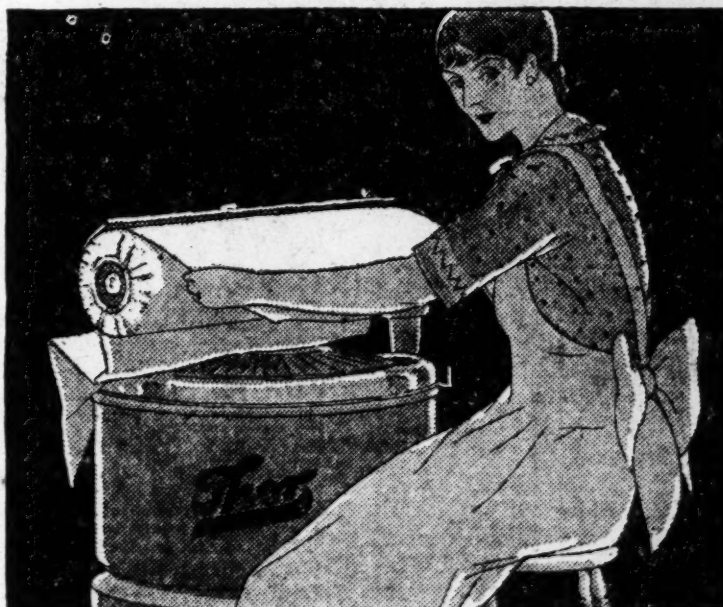

Here is an article which you would be proud to own. The radio itself is housed in a beautiful walnut and maple veneer console cabinet with RCA Electro-Dynamic Speaker, which harmonizes with any period furnishings you might have in your home.

Realizing that the modern housewife has many civic and social duties which require a great deal of her time, Miss Lowen has selected the Hotpoint Automatic Electric Range for use in her classes.

With the Hotpoint Automatic, no woman need spend long hours in the kitchen. Just place the entire meal in the oven, set the time and temperature controls and forget it. When you return home the meal will be ready to serve.

It's surprising how cool and clean your kitchen will be. All of the heat is retained in the range by perfect insulation and there is no soot or fumes to ruin the furnishings.

Be sure to attend these classes and see for yourself just how easy it is to cook this modern way.

"Blue Monday" is no longer "blue" to the woman who owns a Thor Combination Washer and Ironer. It's the very thing you've been waiting for—one that's so low priced you actually can't afford to be without it. One that's so neat, compact and handy—it takes almost no room at all. The Ironer heats in 4 minutes, that's as fast as an ordinary electric iron, and irons faster than any machine you've seen. Irons 90% of your laundry in one-third of the time.

COOKING SCHOOL

23, 24, 25, 26

Miss Bernice Lowen

You are merely grasping an opportunity to learn how to improve your time-honored customs in some respects through the effective use of more modern developments in the preparation of foods and managing them generally.

In any event, it is my sincerest hope that these lectures be of benefit to you, and from my experiences in other cities, I feel sure that this will be the case. The topic itself is a broad one and in many institutions of learning throughout the country months of study are devoted to it. Time is necessarily limited but still I believe that in the three remaining lectures, I will be able to tell you some things and give you some practical demonstrations which you will find of value.

Most sincerely,
BERNICE LOWEN.

Equip your refrigerator

with Charbox
The Remarkable Purifier

Endorsed by Miss Lowen

With a Charbox in your refrigerator (either iced or mechanical) you can now keep onions and milk, cantaloupes, meats, cream, etc., in the same refrigerator without fear of any item becoming contaminated with flavors of other foods.

Make your refrigerator a safe and sweet refrigerator. The odors from edible meats and fruits will very often contaminate baby's milk, ruin the butter, salads, etc.

Charbox, the Remarkable Purifier, absorbs these odors as fast as they are given off, and will keep the box sweet and fresh.

Charbox will repay its cost many times over thru its savings of food from contamination. No germ-laden odors can escape it.

Each item of food retains its own individual flavor, as Charbox absorbs free odors and gaseous flavors and is itself absolutely odorless.

How Charbox Works: Simply remove a Charbox from its carton, lift off protective moisture proof pads and place the Charbox on its edge on the top shelf of your refrigerator (either iced or mechanical).

It immediately goes to work and begins absorbing the odors and gases that carry a flavor.

As the air is constantly circulating in the refrigerator it will pass thru the Charbox where it is cleaned and allowed to pass on.

One Charbox will keep your refrigerator sweet for three (3) months before replacement becomes necessary.

Charbox is for sale at grocery stores, drug stores, hardware stores, department stores and at all Georgia Power Co. retail stores. Price, 75c each.

"After thoroughly testing Charbox, I find that it will absorb the odors and gases in refrigerators (either iced or mechanical). It also eliminates the mixing of flavors in different foods."

Luxurious comfort descends upon your home the very day you install the Iron Fireman. Immediately a perfected mechanical servant is on the job—doing all the hard work of fire tending.

Your Iron Fireman thermostat wakes up the furnace and starts the heat before you waken in the morning. All day long the rooms are kept at just the temperature you like best, regardless of the weather outside. And all you do is fill the hopper with coal periodically. No wonder your friends envy you!

Unless they have an Iron Fireman, your friends do not know half of the story... the wonderful half that saves you countless trips to the basement, gives you even heat, a clean furnace room... that actually saves you money. Here is luxury with economy, for the Iron Fireman burns the small, less expensive sizes of coal, saving dollars in fuel bills. Iron Fireman "Forced Underfiring" obtains the maximum heat from every ton of coal. All volatile gases are burned. Nothing is wasted as smoke.

It can be installed quickly in any kind of home furnace, either old or new, with practically no interruption in heating service. We shall be glad to examine your furnace and show you how to secure the greatest possible comfort at lowest cost. Write or telephone for full information.

Absolutely safe, too! Iron Fireman burns coal—the safe, dependable fuel. Thousands of home owners who before have hesitated about installing automatic heat, are now enjoying the daily luxuries which Iron Fireman brings.

SYNOPSIS. The Bundys and the Blades, old Long Island families, have maintained a blood feud for generations. The Blades have grown unaccountably rich and the Bundys face financial problems. But a more important problem arises when Martha, the only Bundys girl, comes home from college and announces that she is through with the family and is going to live independently in New York.

THIRD INSTALLMENT. She closed the door after her, leaving her menfolk silent and more than a little displeased. "We sure fumbled the ball somehow," said Damon. "Headstrong little devil," said Gelon admiringly. "Why is it a girl like that always turns out to be your sister?"

"Come to order," said Theron, thumping the table. "I take it we're all for the plan Damon and Pythias dug up."

"If we can see our way clear," said Mr. Bundy. "Produce arguments."

"New York city," said Damon, "is pushing out on to Long Island. Every town is growing. The counties are widening roads to take care of the traffic."

"Hear! Hear!" said Gelon. "Property values are jumping. Now, my idea is to make a clean-up while the cleaning is good. Buy a piece of property cheap and sell it dear. No risk and profit certain."

"We can get the Bunker farm, cut it up into lots, and make a profit of something like $500,000 in, say, two years' time."

"No commissions to real estate," said Pythias. "The five of us can handle it."

"How much," asked Mr. Bundy, "do you guess it will take to swing it on the start-off?"

"Twenty thousand payment to Bunker. Say another $25,000 to get under way."

"I move we fly at it," said Theron enthusiastically. "Take a 10-day option," said Mr. Bundy. "That will give us time to fine out this and that and be sure where we're getting off."

"Settled," said Gelon, "and the meeting rises."

"Some day!" said Theron. "We lose a sister and gain a fortune."

"All the same," said Mr. Bundy, "we'll have to keep an eye on her."

"I'm keeping one on her now," said Gelon from the window. "She's ambulating down the drive."

"As for me," said Mr. Bundy, "I'll be glad when she gets over this lunacy and ambles back up it for good."

"Sweet cat!" exclaimed Gelon from his vantage point. "Here come those riding nannies down the road with Mortimer Blade inside of them. And darned if he isn't stopping and lifting his hat!"

"Do we emerge in a body and abolish him, or draw lots for it?" asked Damon.

Mr. Bundy asserted himself. "We make believe," he said, "that we didn't see him at all. No Montague and Capulet stuff in this neighborhood. If we start anything like that, Martha'll pick him just to show us there we get off."

"Dad's a wise old serpent," commented Theron. "Somebody's got to be in this family," said Mr. Bundy, moving closest to the window so he could watch his daughter's comings and goings.

He found it interesting and wished he might have listened to what words passed between the young people.

"Miss Bundy, isn't it?" he asked. "I'm Mortimer Blade. I haven't seen you since you were a kid."

"I remember you," she said, with a grave face, but with a twinkle of malice in her eye. "The last time I saw you my brother Gelon was thrashing you."

"It was worth it," said Blade, "if it makes you recall me at all. How do you stand on the matter of family feuds?"

"Rather to one side, out of the melee," she said. "Did you think I was going to drag you off your horse?"

"Not exactly," he said. "But you are such an improvement over any Bundy I ever saw that I feared you might refuse to talk to me."

"Have you something entertaining to say?"

"My conversation has been much admired by experts."

"You may show samples," she said. "Personally I like something along the debonaire line. Not esoteric, you know, but light and gay and jaunty."

"Exactly my speed," he said. "Do we touch on art, science, and literature? Or do you prefer whimsies and bon mots and the more shallow forms of persiflage?"

"It's your serve," she said. "Would it interest you to know that numerous Bundys are watching us from the window?"

"Not even remotely."

"Doubtless with luminous glances."

"It's valedictory," she said.

"That," he said, "is cryptic. Why valedictory?"

"I'm tired of being fed worms, so I'm about to flutter out of the nest. They're all doing it," he said.

"Lately I met a girl who was living at home. She was a novelty. Apartment in New York, and all that sort of thing."

"Why not?"

"Why not, indeed? It simplifies matters."

"As how?"

"Well, I couldn't exactly ask to call on you in your home. Something tells me my health wouldn't survive a call."

"But you think I would receive you in New York?"

"At least there is hope."

"Are you, Mr. Blade," she asked, "by any chance what I have heard termed a fast worker?"

"The circumstances are unusual," he said, unembarrassed. "When chance throws one into the presence of the daughter of an ancient enemy, the meeting necessarily is brief. To get any results whatever one must be nimble. May I call upon you in the city?"

"Why?"

"I like situations. There would be a certain piquancy about it."

from which you are a most unusual Bundy. In fact, I can take in more territory and say you are a most unusual young woman. You are scenic. Your conversation would be uplifting. In short, I want like the deuce to know you better."

She considered, then she nodded her head. "You may call on me," she said, and turned away in the middle of the sentence to walk back up the family driveway. "If," she said over her shoulder, "you can find me."

"I'm a regular bureau of missing persons," he said. "When does the search commence?"

"I am leaving here Monday," she said, "by the earliest convenient train."

Mr. Blade lifted his hat and continued on his way.

Martha Bundy's plans were more detailed than she had given her family to understand. She knew exactly where she was going and had made arrangements for her reception—and she knew what phase of life in the city she was about to attack. Her confidence in herself and her knowledge of New York were rather greater than her experience warranted, but, on the other hand, she was no unsophisticated country girl blinded by glamour and ignorant of metropolitan habits. In common with her generation she knew a great deal, but also knew a great deal that was apocryphal.

Her experience with New York had been that of a young woman of established family who was received where she cared to be received. And because she had dined and danced at the better places, and had had excursions into the limbo of night-clubs with accredited partners, she was sure her insight into the good and evil of the place was sufficient as foundation for an independent career.

She knew the sort of career she desired—among what genus of beings she wished her life to move—but she had only generalized. She wanted to become a part of that stratum which did things, and by doing things she meant intellectually or artistically. So, after all, glamour played its part. Her problem now was to hit upon some means of livelihood which would bring her into contact with that world which she conceived to be important.

As to her own abilities and qualifications, she was under no delusions. She could not paint; she could not write. Nor did she desire to essay any of the creative arts. What she wanted was to cling to their skirts, to become some sort of adjunct, valuable to them and by virtue of her service entitled to their respect. That there must be some field open to her she was assured. Upon one point she was determined, and that was that she must be independent and supporting. So long as she accepted a penny from her family, she was, after a fashion, bound to them and to their ideas and desires. She had hated this idea of being trammelled, this idea of having to report to some headquarters, and to account for her goings and comings.

It is to be feared that she looked upon life as an adventure, though there was a practical strain in her blood which had a way of compelling her to suppress impulse and to look to results. One thing was certain: She was unafraid. She desired greatly to live, to experience life, to demand and to receive from life such experiences as it had to offer, pleasant or unpleasant. In short, she wanted to know what it was all about and was firm in her resolve to discover.

A week after her arrival she was in a state of poised, wings preened and ready for flight if only she could find some direction in which she could soar with promise. She had taken a room in a sort of hotel facing Central Park from the west and was established there with funds sufficient to carry her for another month. But she had made no acquaintances.

In the dining room and in the lobby and elevator she had seen a number of young women, evidently habits of the house and as evidently living alone and maintaining themselves by some sort of irregular labor. She wondered about them, studied them, almost spied upon them. Undoubtedly they would prove mines of information and she had established relations. They had one thing in common, and that was good looks: one or two were even beautiful. What, she wondered, did they do for a living? In the evening they were invisible; one might count upon them for breakfast; luncheon was uncertain, but it might be taken as a law of nature that none would dine in the hotel.

One fact was certain: the hotel was circumspiced. If there was anything questionable about these intriguing young women, their place of residence played no part in it.

Martha was impatient, but these self-possessed young women seemed unapproachable; they hunted alone and seemed for the most part to ignore one another. Apparently aloofness was an important part of the ritual. She wondered if they speculated upon her as she did upon them. And then one morning, quite unexpectedly and casually, she made an acquaintance. She was breakfasting alone in the large dining room when a pleasant voice, piquant with downy eastern accent, spoke to her. Martha looked up from her waffle to see a serious but lovely face confronting her smilelessly.

"Do you mind," asked the girl, "if I breakfast with you? I can't bear the thought of eating alone this morning. She pronounced it 'cahnt' very markedly."

"I'm lonesome myself," Martha said. "Do sit down."

"I can't sleep," said the girl abruptly. "And I," Martha said, "sleep like a top."

"I wouldn't mind so much if one didn't think lying awake and thinking and thinking is dreadfully dull," she said. "I can't tire myself out."

The girl gave her order and leaned back in her chair. "Speak easy, hoppy till 3 o'clock," she said. "Then I walked out on the party and came home."

"Sounds interesting," said Martha. (To Be Continued Tomorrow.)

COURT FIGHT LIKELY
OVER PARKS ESTATE

Temporary Letters of Administration Asked in Bibb Court.

Possible court battle over administration of the estate of James W. Parks, 38, victim of an alleged insurance murder plot in Macon and inmate of the Baptist orphanage at Hapeville, was seen Tuesday in application for temporary letters of administration was filed in Bibb county court of ordinary at Macon.

The application, signed by J. A. Van Dyke and Mrs. Mattie L. Van Dyke, of Asheville, N. C., said to be relatives of the slain youth, was filed withstanding recent appointment of T. Anderson, manager of the Hapeville orphanage, as temporary administrator for Parks. Mr. Anderson was named by ordinary Jeffries Fulton county court of ordinary several weeks ago, according to Georgia Easternland, Atlanta attorney and counsel for the home.

Mr. Westmoreland declined to say whether the orphanage will fight the application.

Mr. Anderson, who is out of the city, Young Parks is alleged to have been in a plot to collect $14,000 insurance. His murder by Earl Mansfield, now under death sentence, is alleged to have been engineered by Mrs. C. Powers, 71, of Macon, who is now held in the Bibb county jail pending trial. Mrs. Powers was first indicted for having confessed and later have repudiated her confession.

Mr. Westmoreland also declined to say whether Mr. Anderson, acting in capacity of temporary administrator, would file suit in the near future to collect the $14,000 insurance carried by Parks at the time of his death.

RESCUE WORKERS
HOW ATLANTANS
VARIOUS ACTIVITIES

Insulating a plan which it is believed will bring Atlantans to a better understanding of what is being accomplished by the American Rescue Workers, Major and Mrs. J. T. Wilson, officers in command of the local organization, announce an open house period.

Prominent Atlantans are being invited to visit the institution at 420 Edmond avenue, N. E., to go over a different department and by accident observation learn of what is being done.

Trotsky, Loyal to Bolshevism, Playmate Dead, Even in Exile, Says Party To Stand Firm in Case of War For His Slaying

Revolutionary Principles of Opposition Party To Be Adhered To, Former Leader Declares To Break His Silence.

BY PRISCILLA RING.

Associated Press Staff Correspondent.

Constantinople, July 23.—(P)—Loyal to the creed of bolshevism, even though he languishes in exile, Leon Trotsky, former war lord of the red army, today declared the "opposition" party in the U. S. S. R., which opposes the present Stalin regime, was in case of a Russo-Chinese war, stand firm for the revolutionary principles which prompted the October revolution of 1917 and resulted in the downfall of the Kerensky government.

Ever since his arrival in Turkey several months ago Trotsky has repeatedly refused to speak publicly, but today he received the Associated Press correspondent and in his fluent French accompanied by vehement gestures for emphasis, he discussed the Russo-Chinese crisis in the Far East.

Abolishing the soviet government of all blame as an aggressor, Trotsky was careful to state that his opinion was expressed only as a private individual. "There is absolutely no doubt that the aggressor is not the soviet government but the Chinese government," said Trotsky.

Can Be Explained.

The conduct of the new nationalist regime at Nanking which is responsible for the acts of its Manchurian subordinates can be explained, according to Trotsky, by the fact that this government, which arose from the defeat of the Chinese laborers and peasant revolutionaries, feels its weakness before the forces against which the Chinese revolution was directed.

These forces, Trotsky declared, are British and Japanese imperialism. Nationalist China felt obliged to seek to strengthen its authority by making an adventurous gesture in the defeat of a neighboring country.

"I do not believe war is imminent, because the soviet government does not want war, and the Chinese government is unable to wage it," said Trotsky, who added that the soviet government asked him whether he thought war is likely in the Far East.

Victories Due to Enthusiasm.

The victories of General Chang Kai Shek's army in 1925-26 were due to revolutionary enthusiasm of the masses but the Chinese army lost its chief strength when in Trotsky's opinion, it was turned against the masses.

From the viewpoint of military organization the Chinese nationalist army is very weak and General Chang Kai Shek must realize the soviet authorities for emphasis of this weakness," continued Trotsky.

"Chinese nationalists would be unable to fight the red army unless the Chinese were merely an auxiliary detachment of the armies of other powers. I do not believe such a coalition of military force is probable, especially in view of the soviet government's sincere desire to settle the dispute peacefully."

Trotsky said that America's intervention in the Kellogg pact seemed "unconvincing" because, he said, the United States has not yet decided in view of the fact that there is no foundation for impartiality in the conflict.

Augusta, Ga., July 23.—(P)—Henry Harvey Hall, 13-year-old lad who killed a 16-year-old Memphis man in a fight late Monday, tonight sat in a cell in the county jail, his only companion, a 50-year-old man charged with the slaying of his wife.

A coroner's jury today formally charged young Hall with the murder of Clifford Reason, who was struck on the head with a stick after he was said to have attacked the 7-year-old brother of the Hall youth.

Hall admitted striking Reason, telling police Reason had kicked his younger brother. The blow with the stick struck the mastoid bone, causing a flow of blood to the lungs, doctors said, and young Reason died before reaching a hospital.

Police who went to Hall's home, located in a mill district, found the lad in bed. He immediately dressed and on the way to the station, discussed the possibility of a prison sentence for his act.

Reason was employed at a cotton mill. The families of both boys were mill workers.

THE RETURN OF TARZAN No. 39

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Then Tarzan arose, shaking himself like a lion, and placed his foot upon the prostrate body of his antagonist. He raised his voice in the wild cry of victory of the apes. The mad priest of the sun-worshippers lay unconscious. La tried to escape, but with a quick leap the ape-man was by her side.

"What do you intend to do with me?" she asked. "Nothing," he replied, "but you can lead me out of this place to freedom." "I am the High Priest-ess of the Sun Temple," she said, "but you have been chosen by the Flaming God as his own. Not even my power can save you if the people find you. But you saved my life, I will try to save yours."
